Dare to be Different

By Betty Herrera

Society may catorigize you as the typical student. But we know that no one is the same. You are not the same! You may be the sophomore trying to achieve your liscense or maybe a harder task may come to the sophomore in finding his class. But whatever problem a sophomore may encounter, he, just as we all, differ from everyone else. The junior who endures the hardfest academic year grasps for the challenge to succeed. Just as the senior attempts to overcome the senioritis syndrom. But you are therefore not the same because you are like no other individual in existance. You dare to achieve ... to succeed ... you Dare To Be Different! But why must we try to achieve this individualism? Perhaps the answer may be found within the walls of Glendale High. Look around and you'll find a breed of people who have established achievements according to their personal standards. But the individualism doesn't stop there. As we further examine, our desire to be daring is revealed with our trations as well as with our expections of school. And this statement that you exemplify is seen within this yearbook. And the purpose of this yearbook is to bring you, a unique individual, out in a crowd of many.

Say Cheese

By Betty Herrera

You see someone across the room trying to get your attention . . . you hesitate what to do to show some interest. You decide that the best thing to do is to just . . . Smile!!! Who would ever guess that such a little gesture would get such incredible reactions. But of course it does. Always remember if you want to get someone attention the best thing to do is to . . . smile!!!

A Smile Can Change Your Face Value

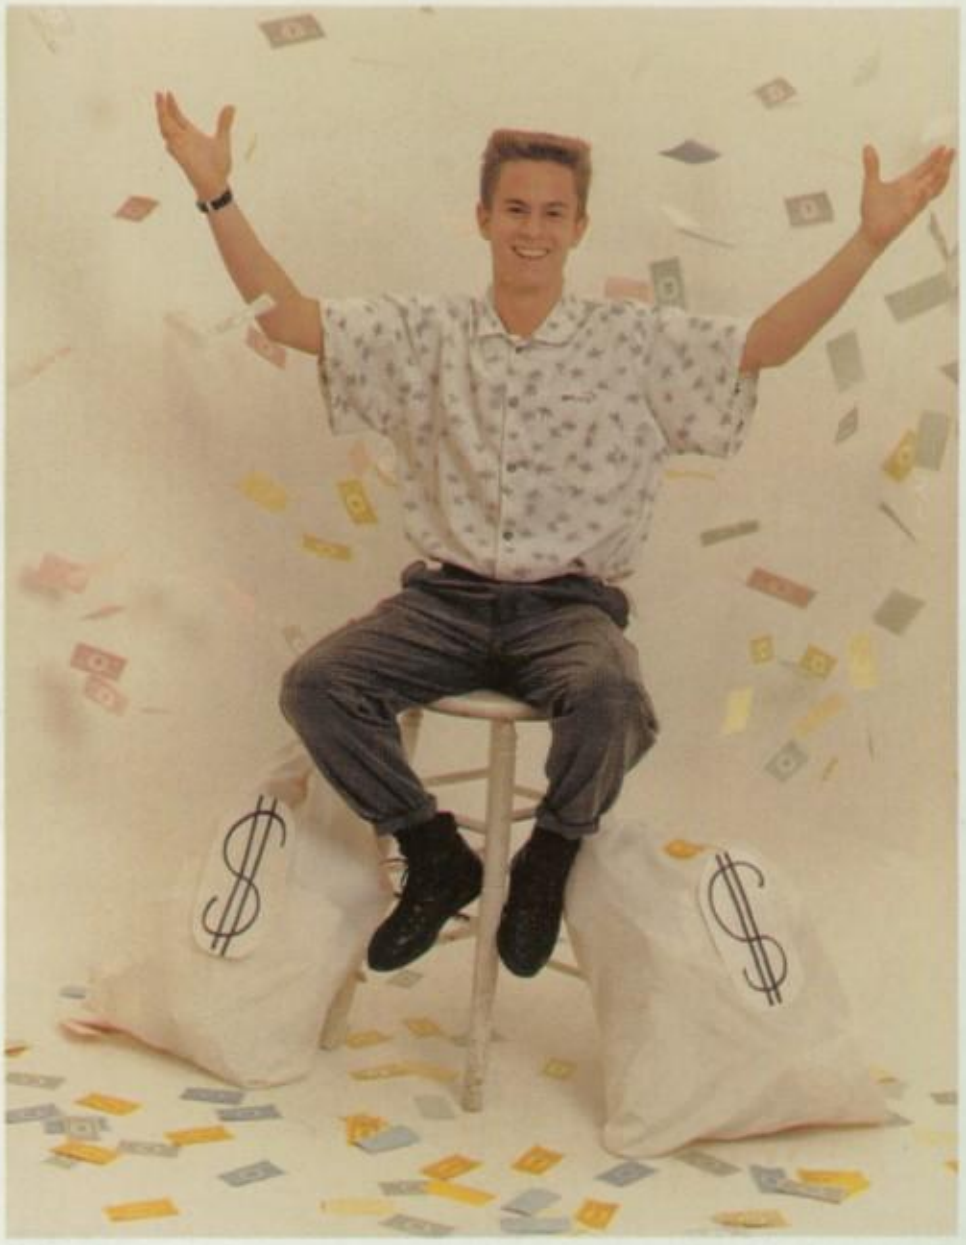
2 of Only . . .



By Betty Herrera

If only . . . you had all the money you could ever want. To do as you please, to spend on who and whatever you desired. You no longer would beg your parents to lend you a few dollars or to borrow the car. Wow all the things you would buy with all that money. You would probably give your girlfriend or girlfriends . . . the best gifts. And best of all you could rent out a huge house for raging parties . . . If it could only happen . . .

By Betty Herrera

The typical sophomore girl wishing . . . hoping . . . dreaming . . . that the senior stud would say something . . . anything . . . to her. When she tries to get his attention she usually succeeds in looking like a soph-o-more. She is usually daydreaming about him pretending to have conversations with him. But still, asks herself "why would he talk to me???" At times it seems as if he would be talking to her, but then she realizes that it was someone behind her. "Oh, if he would only . . . "

By Betty Herrera

If only ... summer could last forever! The parties ... The people ... The endless nights that made summer unforgettable. The walks along the beach with that special someone who promised it would never change. But last but not least, the raging toga parties your friends not your parents will ever forget. If only it could last forever ...

Friends

By Betty Herrera

When your life seems to be jumbled and no one is quite sure they understand you, you can always count on your friends to be there. They are the people you know will be there when you need a shoulder to cry on or maybe all you need is a boost of confidence. They have the unique gift of lifting your spirits when you're wallowing in self pity. They are the people you love to be around . . . your friends. Best of all your friends are there when you have that absolute need to become wild. And as everyone knows, GHS friends are excellent at having fun. They are involved in all sorts of crazy things. Good friends are hard to come by and take a great deal of work. But of course in the long run it is all worth it. A friend is someone who accepts you the way you are . . . A friend is someone you can count on in good and in bad times . . . A friend is someone who knows all your faults but likes you anyway . . . A friend is someone who stands by you in times of need.

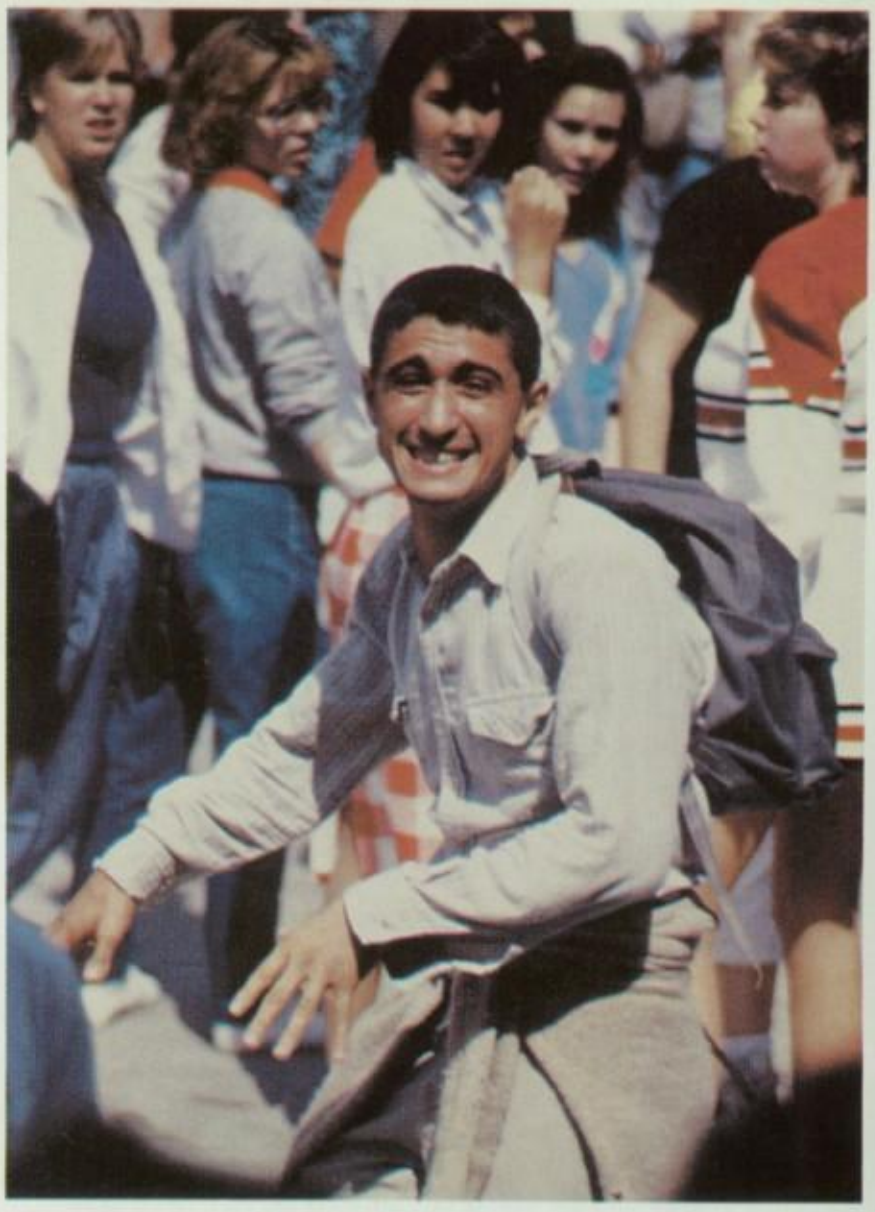
Just Getting Wild!



By Betty Herrera

There comes a time in our lives when we don't care what others think of us, when we don't care what we look like or say and all we want to do is . . . Just Get Wild! And as you can see this is a common occurance at Glendale High. We are fortunate enough to be surrounded by some of the most fun loving crazy people around that you couldn't possibly find anywhere else. Where else could someone show up in sweats and still manage to look sensational!!! No where else but Glendale High. Yes, this is the spot to get absolutely wild. You can dance, sing, "trip out", eat and sit in the middle of the quad and you'll fit right in. If you have been called crazy before they are probably right. But remember being crazy at this school helps all that more to get through.

One may even say that this effect has been passed on to the faculty members. One might even go as far as to say that they are crazy, but hey, that's exactly what we all love about our teachers. Their wild and crazy personality makes our classes all that more intersting.

above: Who's the sick one??? Ralph Anoushian, Allen Valdez, and Aris Gregorian never shy to do something crazy just for the yearbook. But we still don't know who needs the doctor more!

Left: A photographer at work??? David Huang manages to amuse his classmates through his imitation of a Glendale High Short Flag.

Munchies

There he was, George Magawan, sitting in his fourth period class. You could tell that something other than spanish was on his mind. His expressions changed from zoning to an almost frantic look And he began to drool on his books. You know what was on his mind: Food, yes, food!! A critical substance needed for survival. But can a whopper be considered a need for survival? To many the answer is yes. And that particular day George Magawan had a great desire for the famous Tommy's Burger!! He could honestly say he smelled the chili in the room that day. And when he no longer could sit stay still as he concentrated on the clock on the wall. But as he watched it, the seconds hand appeared to become slower and slower. He thought he was never going to get out of his class. When the bell finally did ring you could see George in a running sprint out of the class. As he ran he could see his car parked in the far corner of the lot, and he felt as if he was making no progress. The sweat on his brow began to run down onto his face. When he reached the car, he turned the ignition to only find that the car wouldn't start. This was not George Magawans day! He wasn't asking for much. All he wanted was a Tommy's Burger. He tried one more time and was successful. "Yes, Tommy's here I come . . . "

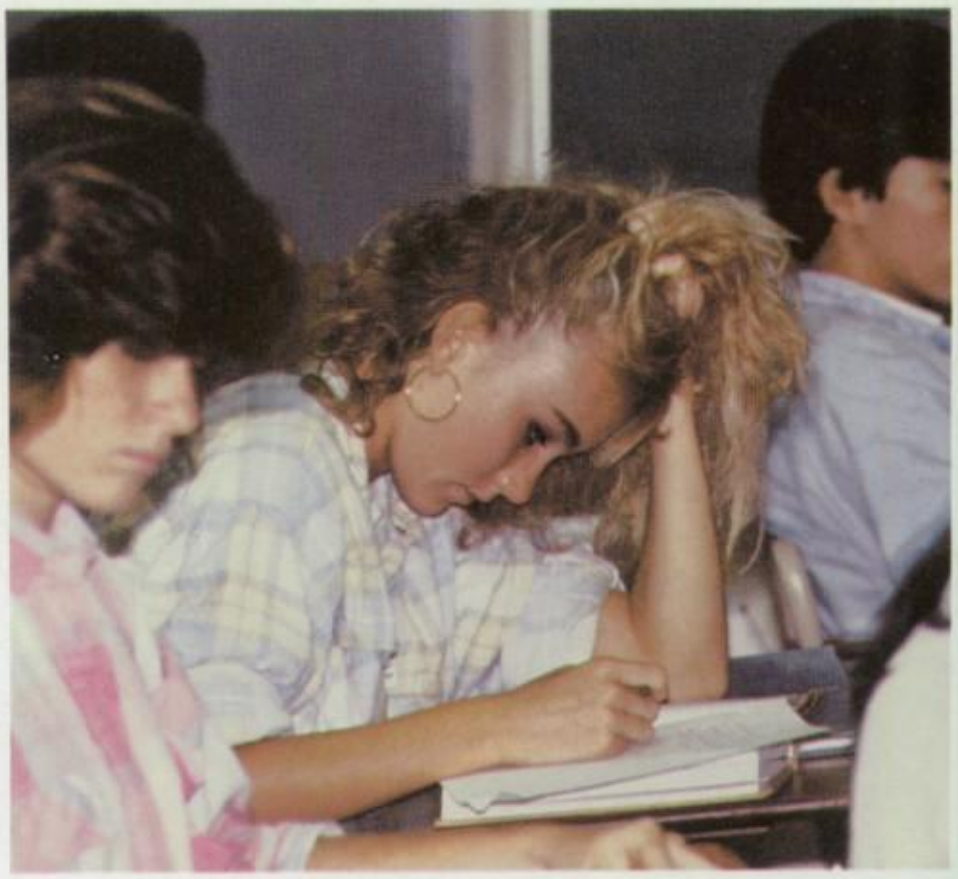
The DayDream Zone



By Betty Herrera

You're traveling through the quad at Glendale High and finally you arrive at your class. You sit down at your desk, you look up at the teacher and you find yourself in the DayDream Zone. We've all been there the place we all try to excape to when we find the "real" world too hard to take. Yes, the DayDream Zone. Look around in your class and you'll find about half of your classmates there. "Zoners" as they are best known have a tendency to escape during any academic involvement. They seek escape if not physically then they do mentally. But what exactly are they thinking about??? Weekends are the most common zoning thought. The Parties . . . the people . . . or maybe just a time to be alone. The most common reason to try to enter the DayDream Zone is the chance to fantasize about something that will probably will never happen. But just having the opportunity to fantasize is enough. But whatever the reason may be we have all been there and perhaps you are there right now . . .

Fundraisers, fundraisers, and more fundraisers!!! It seemed that the classes were only interested in raising money. But of course the classes participated in a lot more than Fundraisers . . . All spirit groups had the opportunity to cheer at the football games as well as other athletic teams. A great deal al of work went into the planning of great school activities. One which the senior class sponsored was the Homecoming Carnival which had a great success over the student body. Both the Junior and Sophomore classes had the opportunity of having booths at the carnival. The annual Roundup was another great success of the effort of all classes. One of the most inspiring successes was the Christmas Dance in which many considered to be the best dance ever. Prom of course was one of the highlights for the Junior Class. And one of the Sophomores great achievements was the Valentine's Dance which had an enormous turn out. All in all the classes had a wonderful year!

Varsity Yells

It not just Fun & Games!

By Betty Herrera

The work that is shown during any performance is only half of what is involved to put a routine together.

Both the Varsity Yells and Dynos put in long hours before a routine is complete. Everyday after school they practice until they've got their performance down to near perfection. Throughout the year they manage to delight us with their skits and pep rallies and most entertaining assemblies. Both the Dynos and Yells manage to bring the crowd at any game to their feet cheering for more. But of course the most difficult thing to still have as one is involved in any extracuricular activity is a high academic standard. But both the members of Yells and Dynos have managed to keep good academic records.

What A Feeling!!!

By Angelique Encarnacion

When the varsity songs and short flags were selected by the student body, they knew it right away that it is a privilege to be a part of the Glendale High Pep Squad. The events that they have gone through together - competitions, camp, pep ralleys, games, and assemblies made them closer. They choreograph routines just to entertain and show the spirit of Glendale. They go to school early, 7:00 for practice to make everything perfect. Win or lose, songs and short flags are always there to support the athletes. It pays off when the athletes and student body appreciate what they do by participating school activities and joining them doing their cheers. Making posters for all the games to wish players good luck is a big responsibility itself.

Besides cheering, some Pep Squad members have other activities, some have jobs, some are athletes. Time effort is required. It is amazing how they can still have a high G.P.A.

The Song captain is Amy Chu and the Short flag captain is Lia Saraceno. Both songs and short flags perform to a musical medley. The songs and flags are unique on Pep Squad because skills and unity are must in each of their performances. Although, all have different personalities, everybody tends to be flexible. Because of their creativity and coordination, they make such a good team. Pep Squad represents Glendale High, therefore they are the lucky ones who get to meet students from other schools during games, competitions, camps, etc.

Strive for... success!!!

Hard work and great effort are all part of every Drill team member. Although the Drill team became smaller in size, the high spirits and wonderful enthusiasm never let down. Our athletic teams were definitely supported by the exceptional performances.

The originality of every performance amazed the audience to the fullest capacity. And this wouldn't have been accomplished without the difficult direction of the captains. Again the 86-87 Drill Team members successfully entered the Montrose Parade and the Days of Verdugo. None of this would have been possible without the help of the new advisor Miss Lyon.

Compared to the previous years, tall flags and banners consist of a small group, but through the cooperation and dedication of each individual, they are able to handle the new responsibility that they are expected to do.

Although all the members of banners are new, they try their best to be a great influence to school spirit at Glendale High School. They have the potential to make it better in which case they did with their own creativity and enthusiasm. The most important thing is that they are always prepared and ready to perform when it comes to assemblies and games.

When the tall flags perform, everybody watches. Carrying the flag is a task in itself but maneuvering it into different positions to create a routine is a beat that should be well appreciated. Even though using a tall flag in performance is difficult, these tall flag girls are able to make the challenge look like an easy one. Lisa Casarez, who has been the captain for two consecutive years, is the one responsible for getting tall flags such a respectable reputation.

This Is The Day!

By The The

Well ... you didn't wake up this morning -
- Because you didn't go to bed.
You were watching the whites of your eyes - turn RED!
The calendar on your wall - is ticking — the days off.
You've been reading some old letters -
You smile and think how much you've changed ...
All the money in the world — couldn't buy back those days.

CHORUS:

You pull back your curtains, and the sun burns into your eyes,
You watch a plane flying across a clear blue sky.
THIS IS THE DAY - Your life will surely change
THIS IS THE DAY - When things fall into place.

You could have done anything ... if you'd wanted -
and all your friends and family think that you're lucky.
But the side of you they'll never see - is when you left alone with the memories - that hold your life - Together like -

Music seems to be a universal language that everybody seems to appreciate. When a person changes into another mood, he tends to change his mood for music too. Music can be classified as jazz, heavy metal, disco, mellow rock, soft punk, rege, and country. However, it all originally started from classical music, the kind of music that never seem to fade.

Once in a while you want to hear someone making a song dedication for you. If you can't express your feelings, music is one way of doing it. When radio stations give away concert tickets, you should expect the lines to be busy. Sometimes they even have a band as their guest for an interview at the radio station. And if this happens, the crowded fans will be waiting for their idol to come out. Being in a concert is a really big difference than just listening to the record because you can see and feel the music. You can also meet a lot of interesting people in a concert.

Some songs have deeper meanings, and some you have to play it backwards to get the message that is trying to inform us. Lately, the old songs are being revived by the same people who sang it like the Monkees. "Maybe the old songs will bring back the good times."

The Abstract Of Music

"Music Is International..."

by Angelique Encarnacion

The Glendale High Choral Department gets better every year. It has completed its second year under the direction of Rebecca Brister and grew to over 160 strong. The credit should be given to Mrs. Brister, who has always been dedicated in teaching the art of music to each individual. She manages to handle five music classes which are A'cappella(70 members), Chamber Choir(24 members), Girl's Concert Glee(27 members), Bell Choir(12 members), and Chorus. She commented, "Music is international, everybody should learn to appreciate and learn the experience of getting involve with it." But of course, the choral department would not be a success without the cooperation and dedication of the members. They have at least 20 performances a year, not to mention the most popular of all, "Unconcert." The A'cappella Choir, Chamber Choir, Girl's Concert Glee, Bell Choir, and Chorus entertain audiences statewide bringing Christmas joy and unconcert excitement to the masses.

The A'cappella officers are James Damron, President; Erin Dillon, secretary; and Virginia Widener, treasurer. The leaders of each section are Angela Callister, soprano; Emily Rankin, alto; Steve Wright, base; and Hye Yoon, tenor. The music representative and accompanist is Nairy Chaglasyan. Chamber choir only meets once a week, every Tuesday from 6:00 to 9:00p.m. Five people are chosen from each section. Bell Choir is a zero period class which meets only three times a week. Being a member in any of these choral groups is a big responsibility, it is time consuming and hard work but it is all worth it. You meet people and get to know them better which makes the groups stronger and closer like one big family. Being part of A'cappella is a privilege, it makes you feel a sense of accomplishment and it builds up your confidence. Self discipline is one of the factors that you'll learn.

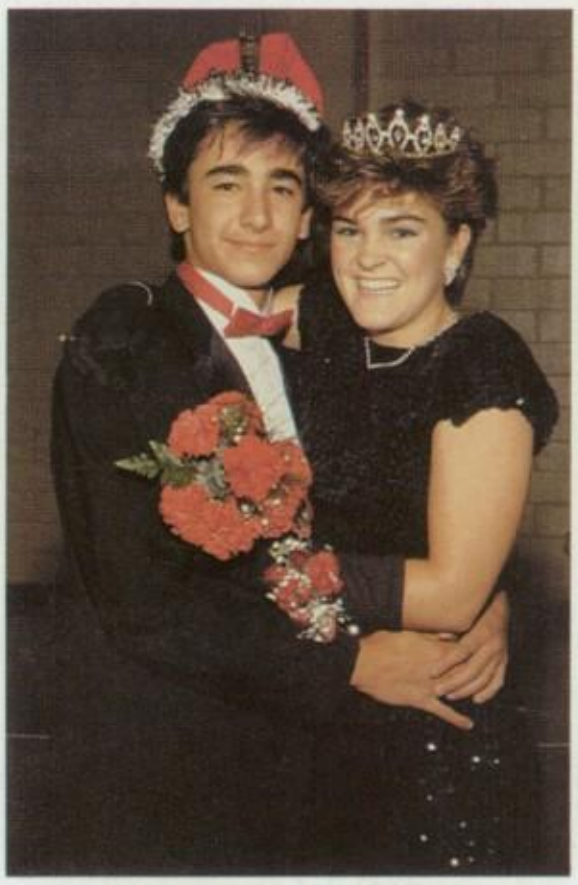
"The Most Prestigious Coronation"

Homecoming, The Tradition Continues

by Angelique Encarnacion

The night had finally come when all the students gather at Glendale High Gym on November 8 at 8:00 to celebrate the most prestigious coronation of all, the crowning of the Homecoming court. After the tense weeks of filling out resumes, attending interviews, enduring votes, then the long waiting, the finalists will finally be honored and the queen will be finally be revealed. The dancing stopped and the tension began to build up when people were waiting for the announcement of the Homecoming Queen. The suspense was relieved when Vickie Gocke was crowned the Homecoming Queen of the 1986 Glendale/Hoover rival game. Queen Victoria Gocke and King Todd Fabian danced to the evening's theme song, "Stand By Me," then the rest of the crowd followed. The entire court were all traditionally dressed in black formal dresses and their escorts were in tuxedos. The rest of the court with their escorts were Gina Wilson, Jeff Nelson; Angela Callister, Sean Doyle; Virginia Widener, Todd Byer; Karen Bates, Brian Calderon; and Jenny Jutras, Bob Mulcahey. The Homecoming court received charms and the queen also received a ring to remember her by. At the dance, there were two big screens which made it more successful because students of Glendale High became more hyper and spirited. With the fast and slow music, everybody was able to dance to the beat. The Homecoming dance ended at 11:30 with high spirits and memories of an exciting evening. The crowd, especially the graduating seniors recognized the night as an evening to remember. Queen Victoria commented, "the homecoming dance was a blast, and I wish it didn't have to end."



With everybody's assistance and cooperation, the homecoming committee did not have a difficult time cleaning up. Inspite of the time consumed for preparation and cleaning up, it was all worth it!!!

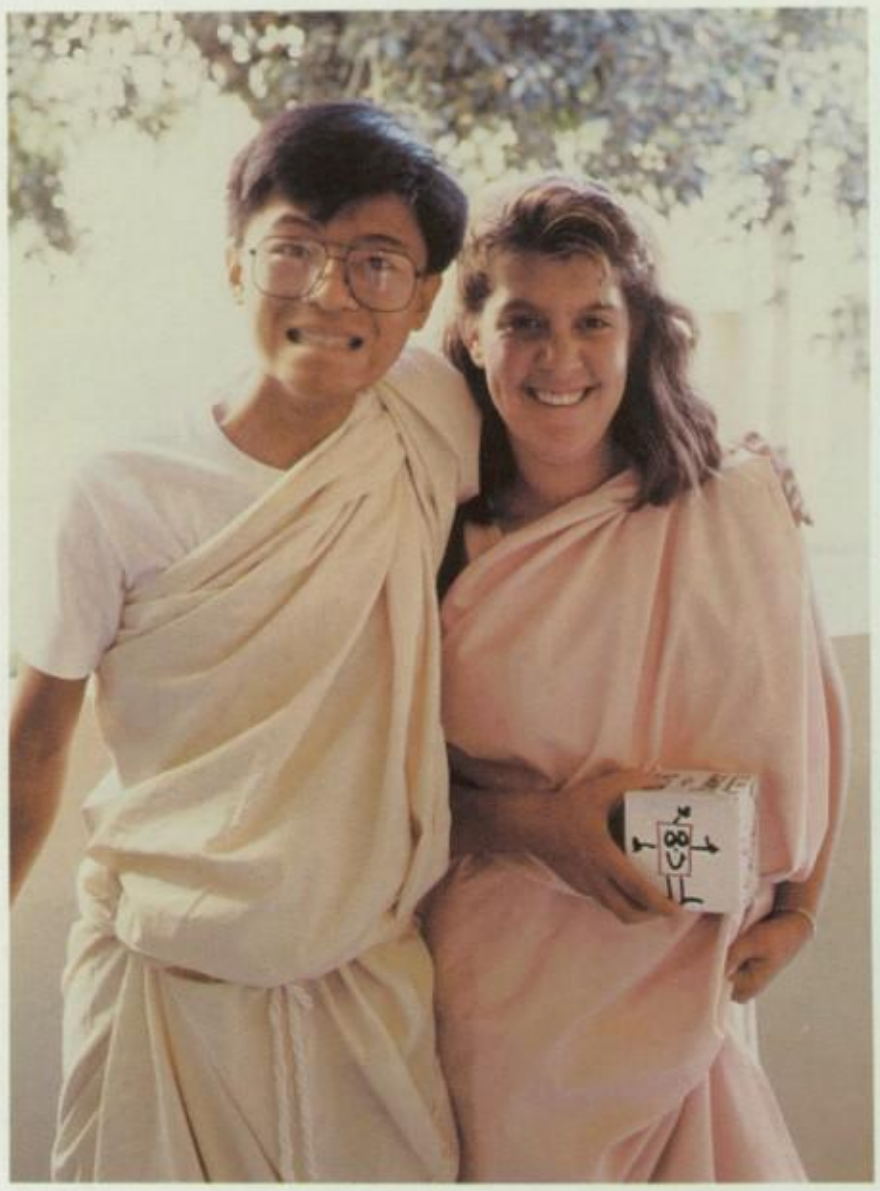
The Exploding Excitement Of "Who-ver" Week

By Mike Fong



While walking through the quad on the way to class one could feel the tension in the air. The students wanted . . . no! they craved victory. The traditional game carried on for generations was about to take place once again. And there was every hint that this game was going to be . . . special!!!

Beat "Who-ver" week started off on Tuesday. (it was almost like the big guy in the White House knew that GHS students needed an extra day of rest to be able to survive the excitement that was to follow.) With college day, students wore the sweat shirts of their favorite university. Some favorites were UCLA, Harvard, UC Berkeley and Pepperdine. The excitement of college day was followed by Beach Day. And this day was very appropriate for the wonderful clear blue skies. Beach Day although successful, did not really change the way GHS student body's generally consist of surfers and such who live, eat, and breath the sun and surf(or at least dress like they do). Thursday was Toga Day, and in effort to relive the great Roman Empire the students were encouraged to wear their favorite bedsheets. And the Grand Finale came on Red and Black Day. The Homecoming Carnival and pep rally built the anticipation of the '87 Glendale/ Hoover game.

First semester cabinet was a great success. With Alan Peterson, President and Mr. Dryden, Adviser everything went well. With new fundraisers and activities the semester went rather fast. Cabinet members were very enthusiastic about first semester and made it one nobody would forget.

Gina Wilson commented: "I really enjoyed working with Alan Peterson this year. He was a fantastic president, and a super guy to know and to work with."

Abolish Apathy . . .

By Ed Savay

Second semester cabinet used it's diverse abilities to create unique activities and to build an exciting school environment. During each meeting's debate and decision making, ideas emerged to both improve existing activities and to both introduce new ones. The student body witnessed the results in a packed club competition, entertaining assemblies, greater inter-school unity, and dances that were innovative and fun. A feeling of unity developed as the cabinet worked together to fight apathy and reached beyond the limits of what was merely required.

Second Semester Student Cabinet: Ed Savay, Virginia Widener, Julia Cleverley, Angelique Encarnacion, Chrystal Hartford, Steve Gompers, Beth Mudie, Nairy Chaglasyan, Allen Yap, Vickie Gokie, Rashmi Sadana, Jimmy Damron, Jennie Jutras, Gina Wilson, Kerry Planager, Soo Hong, Merci-Anne Delaney, Tara Persinger, Mr. Dryden, Advisor.

"There was a great deal of work that had to be contributed to the production of Unconcert but it was definitely worth it in the end"

Jimmy Damron President

R.O.C.K.

By Betty Herrera

The many hours of practice suc cessfully contributed to an ex cellent Unconcert performance. Bot groups, Acappela and Chamber cho gave 110% in order to obtain this. Whil most G.H.S. students were at the beac having fun with their freinds, these elit group of talented individuals were work ing long and hard hours. It appeare that for sometime their lives were con sumed with memorizing both songs an dances. But when the performance f nally came out they realized it was c worth it. And with the excellent direc tion of Mrs. Rebecca Bruster the stu dents were going to R.O.C.K. in th U.S.A. Therefore, the tradition of a ser sational UNCONCERT performanc would continue. And on Feb. 27 it finall happened. The lights, the excitemen and the music all came to life as th curtain raised to reveal the first Uncon cert number. And the other followin performances continued to be just c exciting. Jimmy Damron "slappin' Jim' president of the choir, gave a surprisin solo. He was able to amaze the aud ence with the beautiful melody from South Pacific, "Some Enchanted Evening". One individual from the audience remarked, "Oh my! That's Jimmy, I never knew he could sing!" But as he moved in his performance he definitely could. Of course one cannot forget the creative narration of Ed Savay. Ed portrayed the specific decade by the clothing that he wore. One of the most memorable outits must have been the hippie years in which he wore a long black wig and lowered clothing to portray the fashion of that period of time. "Great job Ed". Another memorable moment occured during Virginia Widener's solo when Peter Yi demonstrates his ability as a Hawaiian dancer. While Virginia gave her entertaining performance, he appeared with a grass skirt as he wiggled his hips from side to side. She suddenly breaks into laughter as he dances off stage. And on the subject of excellent performances. Elvis Presley had a super choreographed in which Elvis was attacked by a number of screaming fans.

And the show came to a close. The choreographers were introduced to the audience. All the performers gave a great production of the 1987 Unconcert. Congratulations to all!!!!

Junior Prom: An Overall Success

A Moment To Remember For Everyone

By Jennifer Pallasch

January 18, 1987, may not have been a significant date for all GHS students. But for the '88 graduating class, this date was a time to remember.

The lights were dimmed to only reveal the glittering decor of the room. Music filled the room with exploding excitement. As you entered the room you had the feeling that something special was about to happen! Yes, the 1896 Junior Prom was in progression. Juniors appear to struggle with a tough academic year. And the highlight of the year is always their Jr. Prom. The only Difficulty with Jr. Prom was the long wait for taking pictures. But other than that situation, the entire night was spectacular. But the time everyone waited for finally came at 9:00. The chosing of the Court was finally here. And as the court was chosen the excitement mounted. Everyone seemed to wonder who the '87 Jr. Queen would be. But finally the tension was relieved when Letty Tio was voted '87 Jr. Queen. The court also consisted of P.J. Hernandez, Chrissy Van slooten, Candy Denardo, Bryn Duckworth and Jackie Bustamante.

Halloween Goblins

By Jennifer Pallasch

This years Halloween Dance was a real treat. It all started when the sun disappeared into the night. Glendale High students then proceeded into the depths of there houses digging up fashionable Halloween attire. Ranging from cavemen to teenwolfs, Glendale High School students really showed there true personalities. Creatures of the night came out to dance until the morning light. Fortuanately these ghouls came to party and not to scare, and when the darkness faded away they returned to there homes. All in all, the haunt was pretty happy.

Girls League Returns!!!

By Betty Herrera

Girls League returns to GHS and is warmly welcomed by all girl members. Jenny Jutras, Pres. of Girls League, decided to bring the organization back to GHS. The long time tradition ended two years ago when this organization was disassembled. Reasons for that decision included the expensive repairs that were needed after the stun show presentations. But with the leadership of Jenny, this important club is hopefully here for good. Popular demand was another reason for it's return. Many people felt disappointed knowing that it would not exist. Both boys and girls looked forward to the humorous event of stunt Show. But along with stunt show, the girls were also involved in other community and school activities.

Girls League Members: Gia Nelson, Vickie Gocke, Virginia Widner, Nairy Chaglasyan, Tara Persinger, Beth Mudie, Angelique Encarnacion, Rashmi Sadana, Soo Hong, Merci Anne Delaney, Gina Wilson, Susan Cabrera, Yuka Fujisawa, Dristie Schnieder, Cynthia Churukian, Jennifer Pallasch, Dana LeBlanc, Nicloe Baker, Cindy King, Chrissy Van Slooten, Dawn Petrotta, Laura Cheesman, Teri Zinger, Wanda Kim, Amihah Saddick, Katie Graves, Julie Desario, Beth Carter, Annette Boucher, Tamara Laskin, Alli Shirmer, Kristen Benz, Jena Seabold, Jennie Gosselin, Veronica Zuazoa, Ellen Lizarraga, Deanna Rustingian, Carolyn Sullivan, Jenny Detleck, Setaren Ariarad, Jesica Sommers, Karen Oh, Doan Won, Jeanie Mulcahey, Heather Richman, Sharick Walls, Betty Lousaraian, Melissa Propps, Tonya Medford, Grace Ha, Debbie Boger, Joan Lee, Sunday Comara, Arelene Avanessian, Monica Paratore, Stella Shin, Apala Porikhn, Christina Kim, Wendy Reatigui, Alla Sorochinsky, Vicky Bilit, Nancy Choi, Jeeneen Oh, Hyon Kim, Melisse Lopez, Karina Phoori, Milena Formica, Kieu Lien, Sandra Lee, Julie Byon, Janmie Chung, Misung Lee, Jennifer Frye, Keri Hoffman, Loly Ortiz, Tanya Bessanova, Catharina Avalos, Nonette Mendoza, Natilie Daid, Latisha Sanders, Susan Baloga, Veronica Burneo, Michele Brennan, Kaela Fels, Bieh-Van Ngyen, Kari Edelman, Dina Lossone, Joy Valdecantos, Sabrina Sisco, Amy Chu, Audra Sanders, Vanetta Mallen, Dannette Mihals, Holly Bates, Liz Weaver, Emily Rankin, Robin Colvet, Liz Trydal, Megan Handcock, Crystal Hartford, Cathy Pardo, Betty Herrera, Christy Marr, Hiedi Olsen, Kristie Schneider.

Glendale High Students Unite . . .

The Oldest Tradition In Glendale Continues!!!

By Jennifer Pallasch

Oritorical may not mean too much to you if you're new to Glendale High School, but for alumni and previous classmates, Oritorical has a special meaning, in their minds. This is the oldest living tradition at Glendale High School. The first Oritorical was held at the "Harvard Street Plant" in 1910. It still continues today, but with a few changes. In the beginning, Oritorical was just a speech art. Not until 1923, was tableau added to Oritorical. Eventually, the Oritorical was changed into what it is today: a class competition judged on speech, tableau, and spirit. This years Sophomore class of 1989 really pulled it off. They took two out of three awards. The speech by Victor Bordadora was on "TERRORISM: The Undeclared War." The other award they won was the Tableau, to back up their winning speech. This years spirit winner was the Senior class of 1987. The other outstanding speeches were by the class of 1988 speaker Chrissy Van Slooten with her speech, "On the Edge of a Dream". The Senior class of 1987 speaker was Edward Mahoney with his energetic speech on "Keys of the Heart".

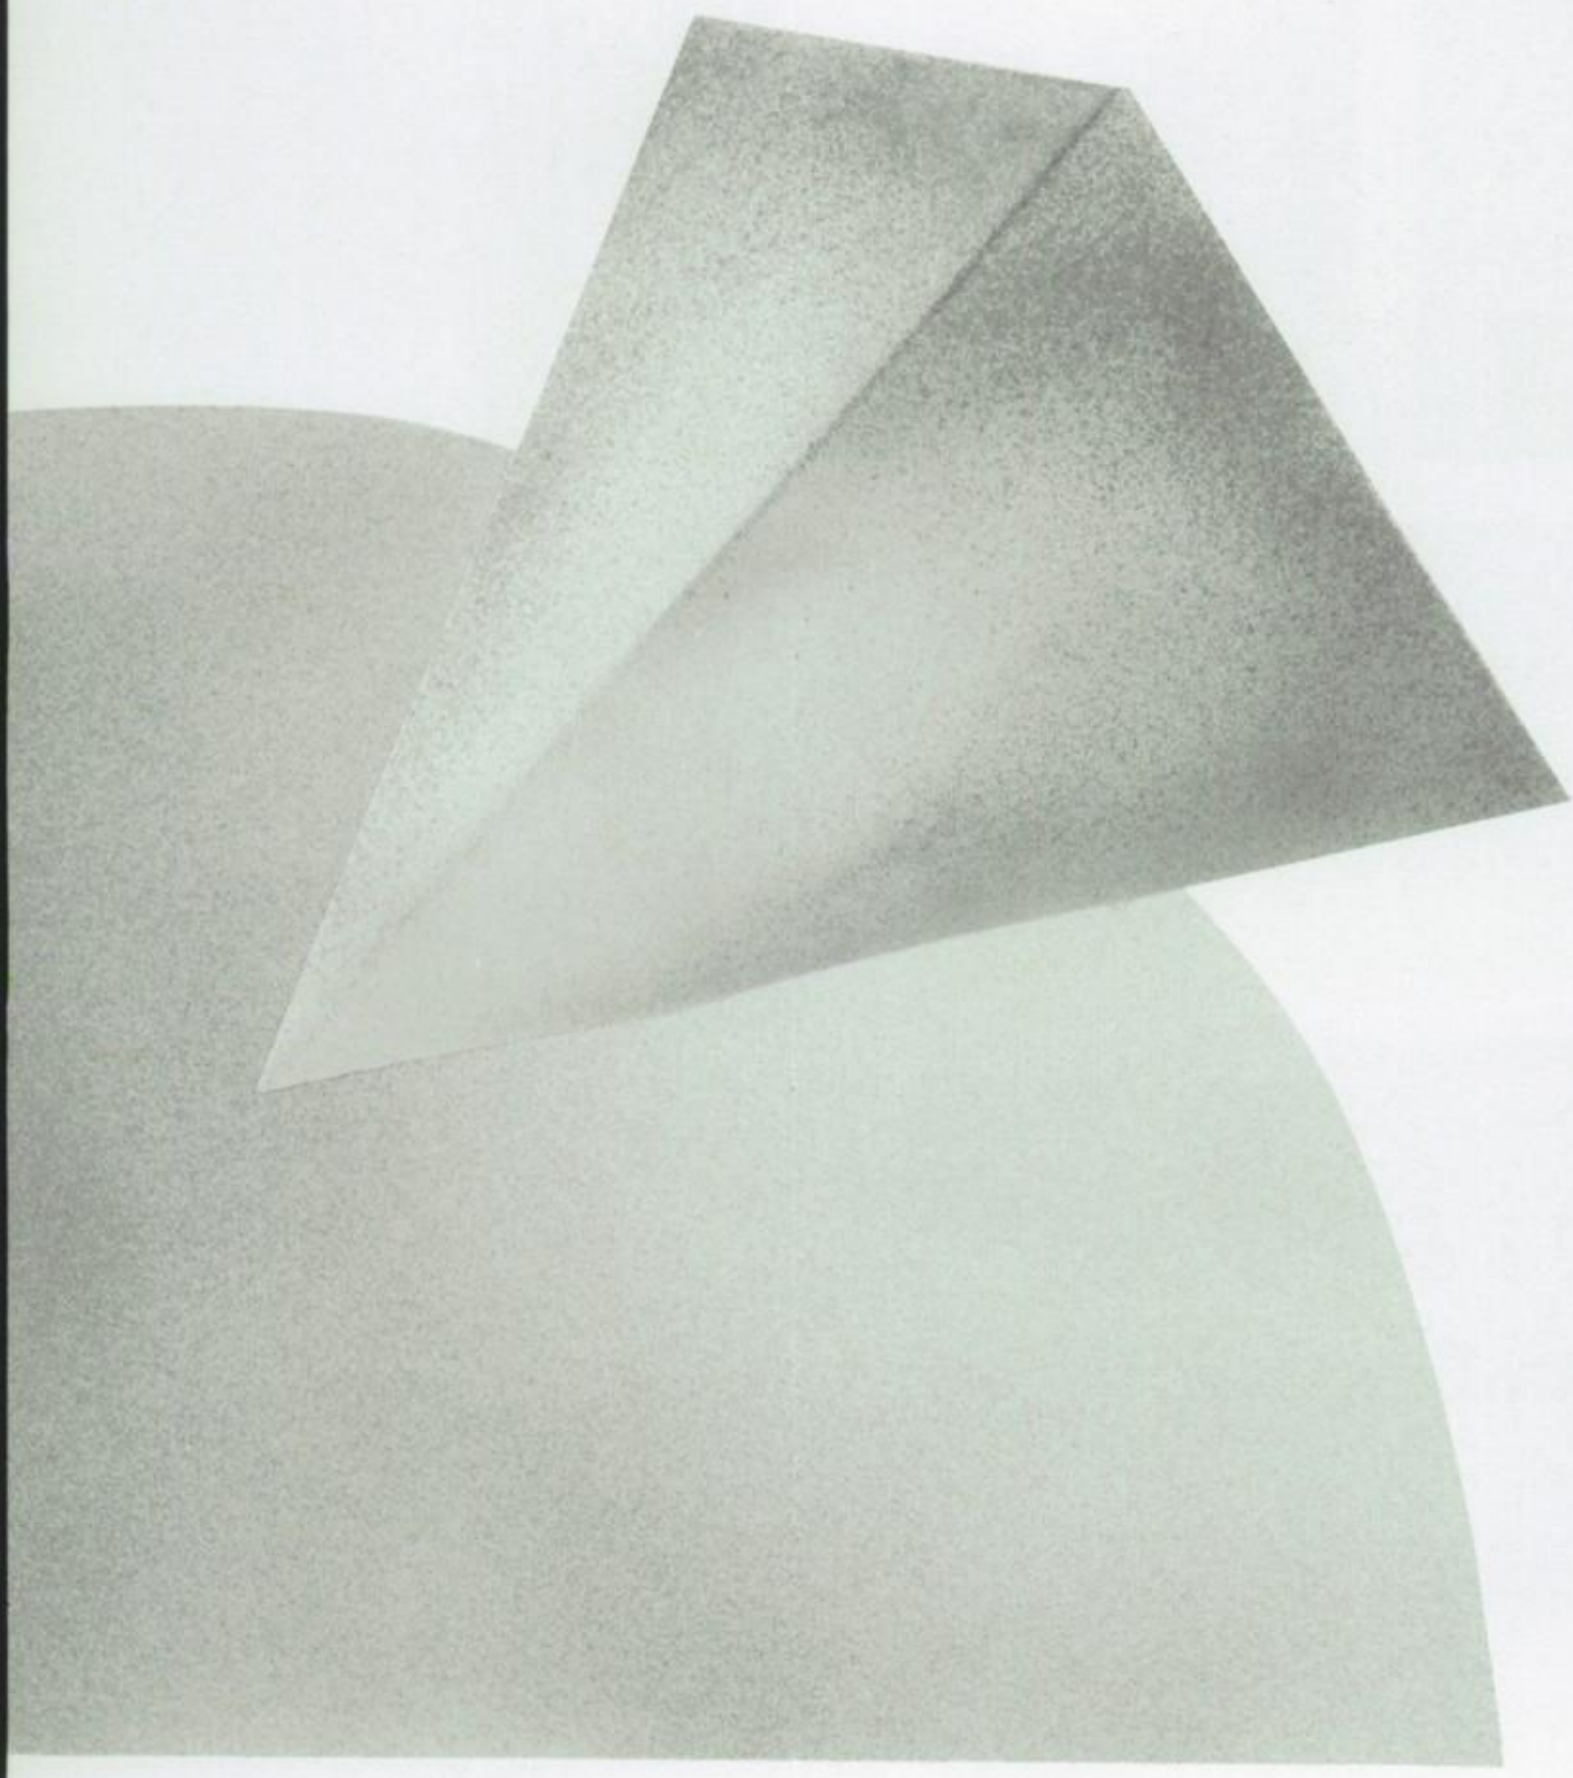
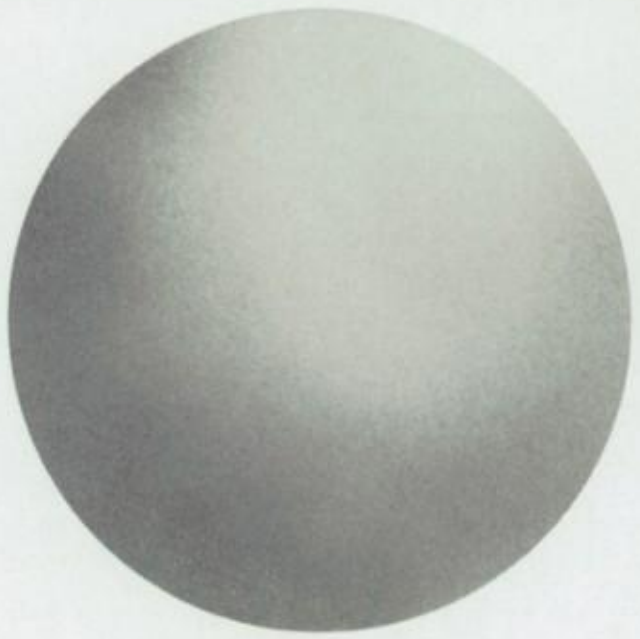
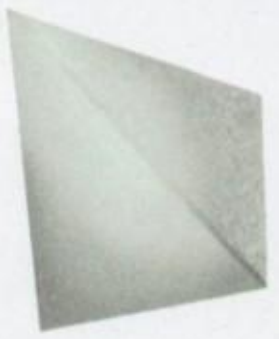
Dare to . . . Have Fun



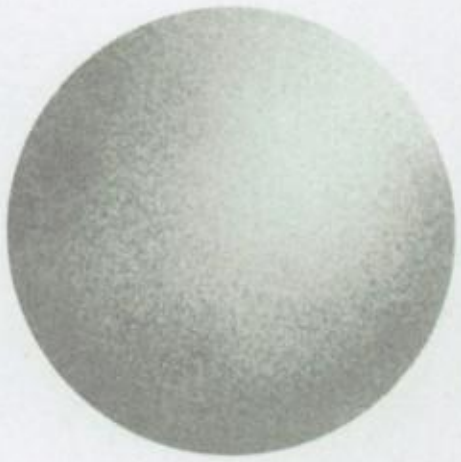




The Wild Tommy's Man

By Jennifer Pallasch

Have you ever not studied for a test and decided to ditch class and go get some food. Well, If you went to Tommy's or any other food place it's definite that you'll get caught because NO ONE ESCAPES MR. WILD . . . And once Mr. Wild has found you, all that wonderful food is his to devoured. We are probably the only school that has a v.p. that is crazy about food and especially Tommy's Burgers! And if you think you're safe bringing back Tommy's food back to the campus, well, you are wrong. Mr. Wild is the only adviser on campus that will take your food and then give you Saturday detention too. He thinks that no one knows about his problem but he is very wrong. So next time you ditch class to go get Tommy's food make sure that you realize Mr. Wild's obsession with the Tommy's Burger.



The Toilet Paper Trip

By Jennifer Pallasch

Have you ever thought about how many ways there are of using toilet paper? Well we thought of three very easy and efficient ways.

1. Destroying a House
2. Covering a Car
3. Decorating a Locker

These were just three of the simplest and most complete ways of using this very versitile paper.

Toilet Paper comes in many sizes and colors. You can get the expensive brands that are also very soft. Toilet paper itself is approximately 4 by 5 and weighs slightly more than a feather.

Have you ever walked outside one morning and found out that your front yard has turned into a toilet paper factory? That's what happened to Glendale High student, Shauna Struebing, on an early morning. She was incredibly impressed by the great workmanship that had gone into her newly decorated front yard. Miss Struebing's exact comments were, "My, isn't this such a beautiful sight to see on a bright, early morning."

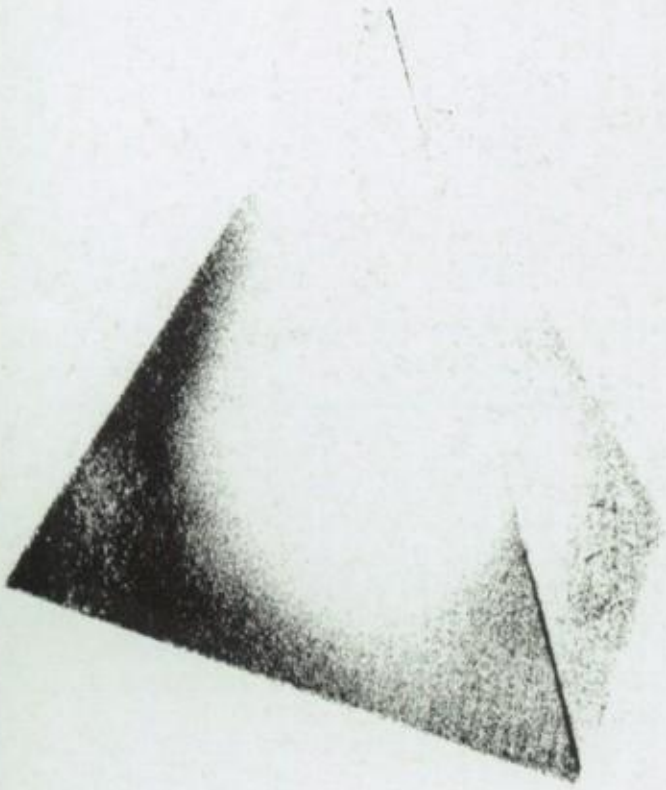
The Dating Dilema

By Jennifer Pallasch

High school years are supposed to be the best years of your life. Supposedly dating is one main reasons why. There are so many different ways of having fun on a date and also many difficulties that you can experience!!! And here are a few examples of just that:

1. You realize that the only way you can go out with that special person is by sneaking out of the bedroom window.
2. Your date shows up for your prom and he looks a bit too casual.
3. Of course you'll always remember coming in at 3:00 in the morning and your parents said that you were grounded for life.
4. Did you ever tell your parents that you were going to go study at the library and come home at 11:00 when the library closes at 9:00?
5. Of course you'll always remember the blind date because it turned out exactly the way you said it would . . . simply awful!!!
6. But of course the worst part of dating comes when you go out to eat and after you find out that you had the worst breath possible . . . What will he think of you then?



The Only Way

By Jennifer Pallasch

Have you ever not studied for a test so you decided to just cheat instead?? Well thats not always the best things to do, since you might even get caught doing it!! The following are examples of the best-known cheating methods:

1. Writing down the answer on your arms.
2. Buying a test from the local test distributor.
3. Trying to just cheat off someone elses paper.
4. Taping your answers to the bottoms of your shoes.

Of course these methods aren't suggested in any way!!! We all know that the best and only way of doing well on a test is to study. But still many continue to use such forms of preparation . . . which is no preparation at all!

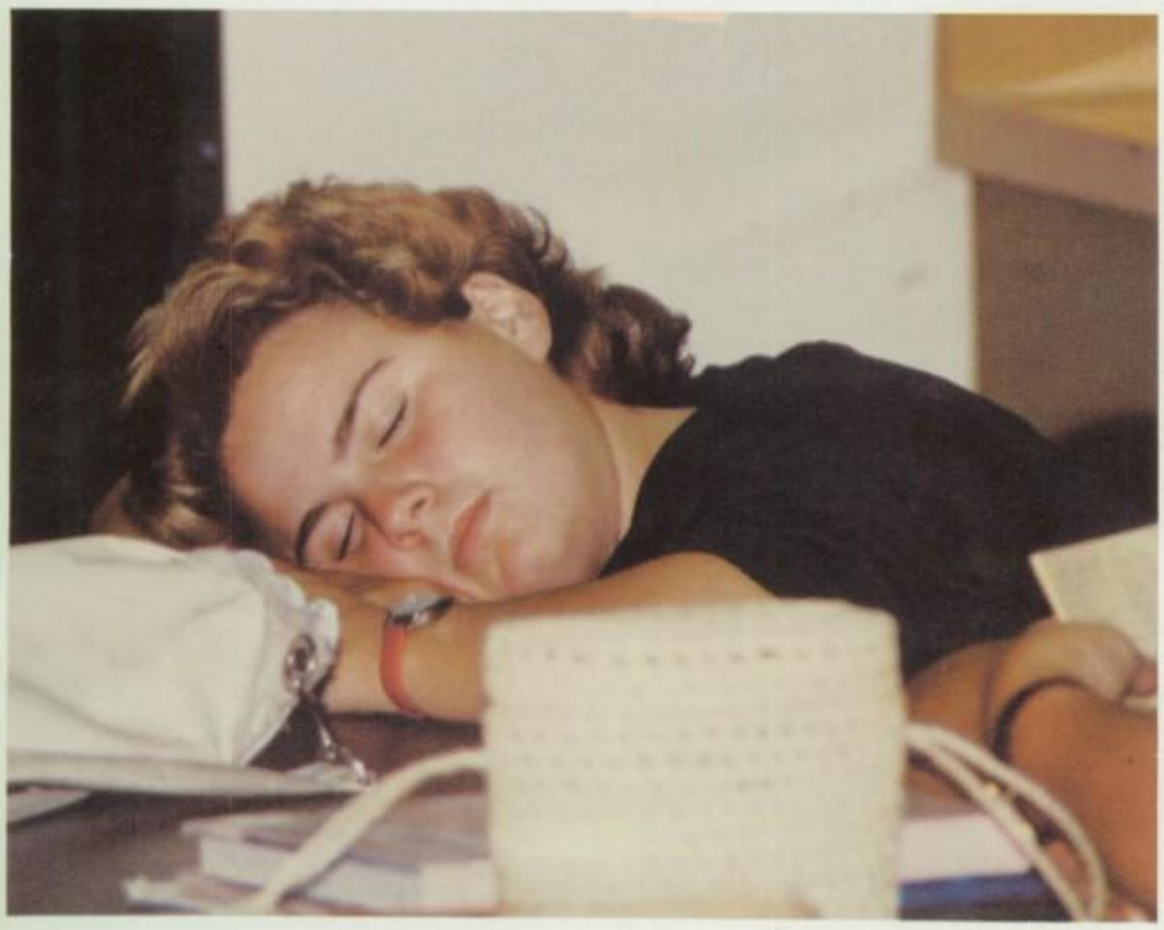
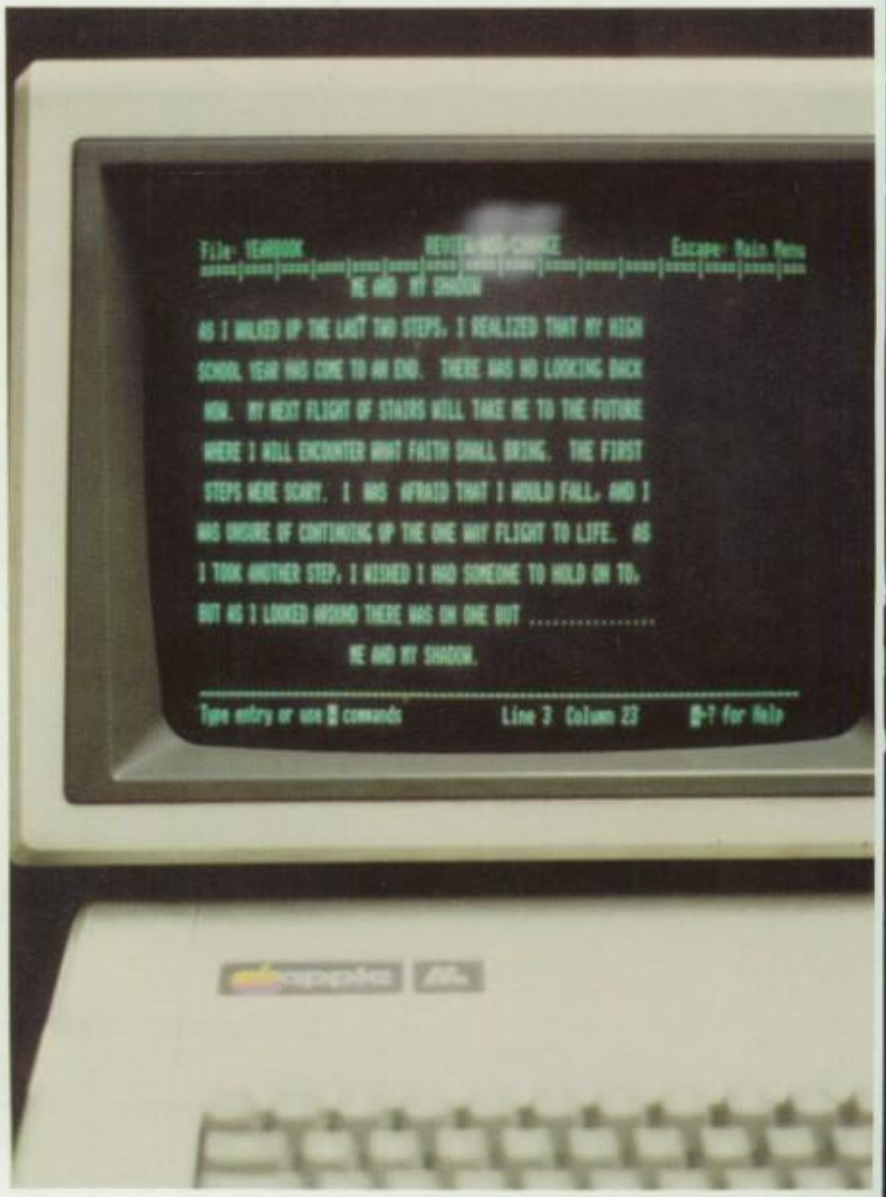
Farewell To The Class Of '87





File: YEARBOOK
Escape: Main Menu
ME AND MY SHADOW
AS I WALKED UP THE LAST TWO STEPS, I REALIZED THAT MY HIGH SCHOOL YEAR HAS COME TO AN END. THERE WAS NO LOOKING BACK
NOW. MY NEXT FLIGHT OF STAIRS WILL TAKE ME TO THE FUTURE
WHERE I WILL ENCOUNTER WHAT FAITH SHALL BRING. THE FIRST STEPS WERE SCARY. I WAS AFRAID THAT I WOULD FALL, AND I WAS UNSURE OF CONTINUING UP THE ONE WAY FLIGHT TO LIFE. AS I TOOK ANOTHER STEP, I WISHED I HAD SOMEONE TO HOLD ON TO.
BUT AS I LOOKED AROUND THERE WAS ON ONE BUT .....
ME AND MY SHADOW.

The Deadly Disease Of Senioritis

Once Their Mind Has Been Engulfed There Is No Escape

By Betty Herrera

Remember your sophomore year when everything was "peachy-king" and life had no problems. Or the tough academic Jr. year in which you had to study or else your parents would kill you. But something different happened in your senior year. You showed up in sweats and your hair was probably not combed through. And when the sun was out you, of course, were no where near the school grounds. What made this tragic transition from studious stud to just plain beach bum??? Well, through careful Stylus analysis, we've discovered it to be the fast spreading disease of Senioritis. Yes, it attacks all living (mentaly and physically) seniors. And this year was no exception. So, the yearbook staff set out to find that perfect senioritis specimen. We needed to find this individual to ask him "Why???". And after several months (alright, two days) of religious devotion to finding the specimen, we finally found Mr. Senioritis himself ... Allen Nahapetian.

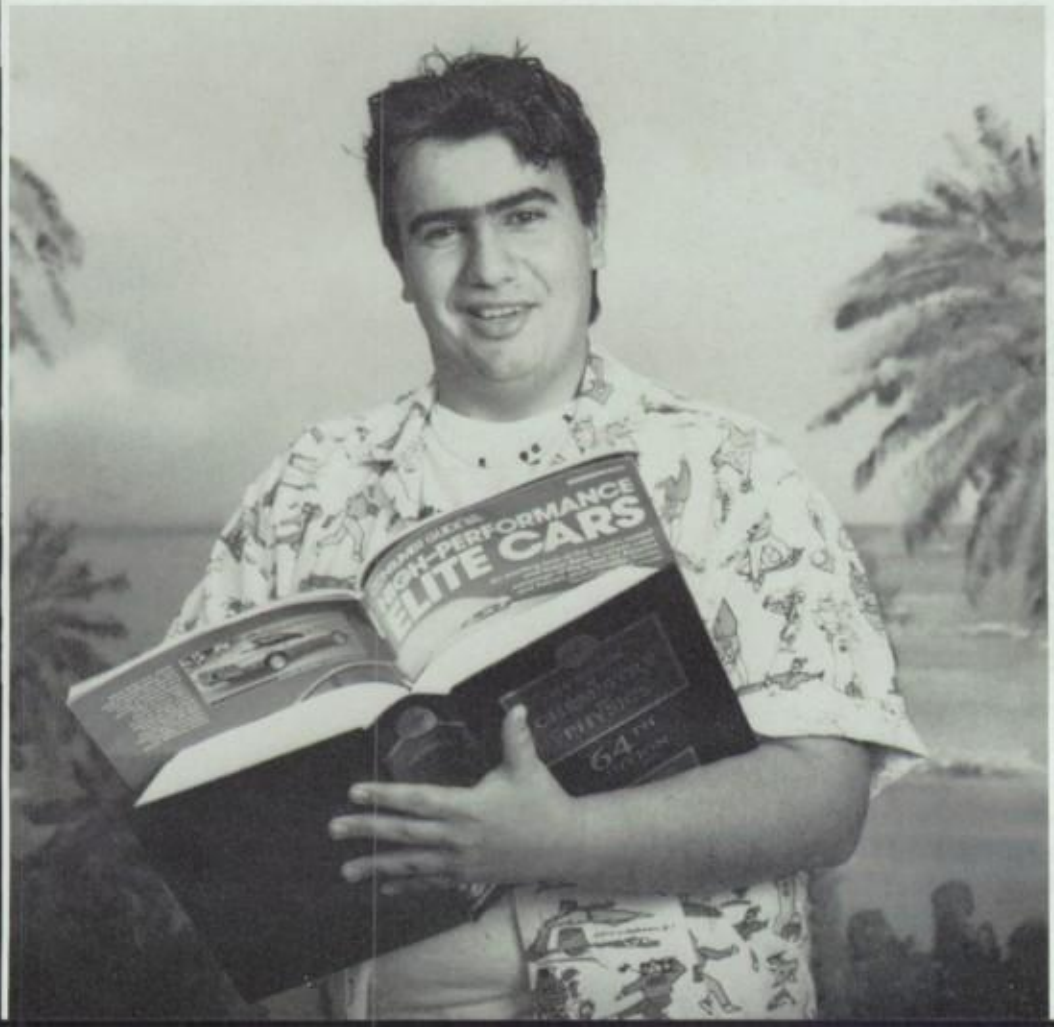
EDITOR: Why??? Why have you ignored all the typical symptoms of senioritis and not sought any help.

ALLEN: Because this year I just don't dare anymore ... I've studied really hard for the past two years and now its time to put that behind!!!

EDITOR: When did you first start to feel this sudden urge for escape?

ALLEN: Actually, I began to feel this way at the beginning of this year. But I still tried to control myself because I needed those 1st semester grades for college ... and now all I want to do is have fun!!!

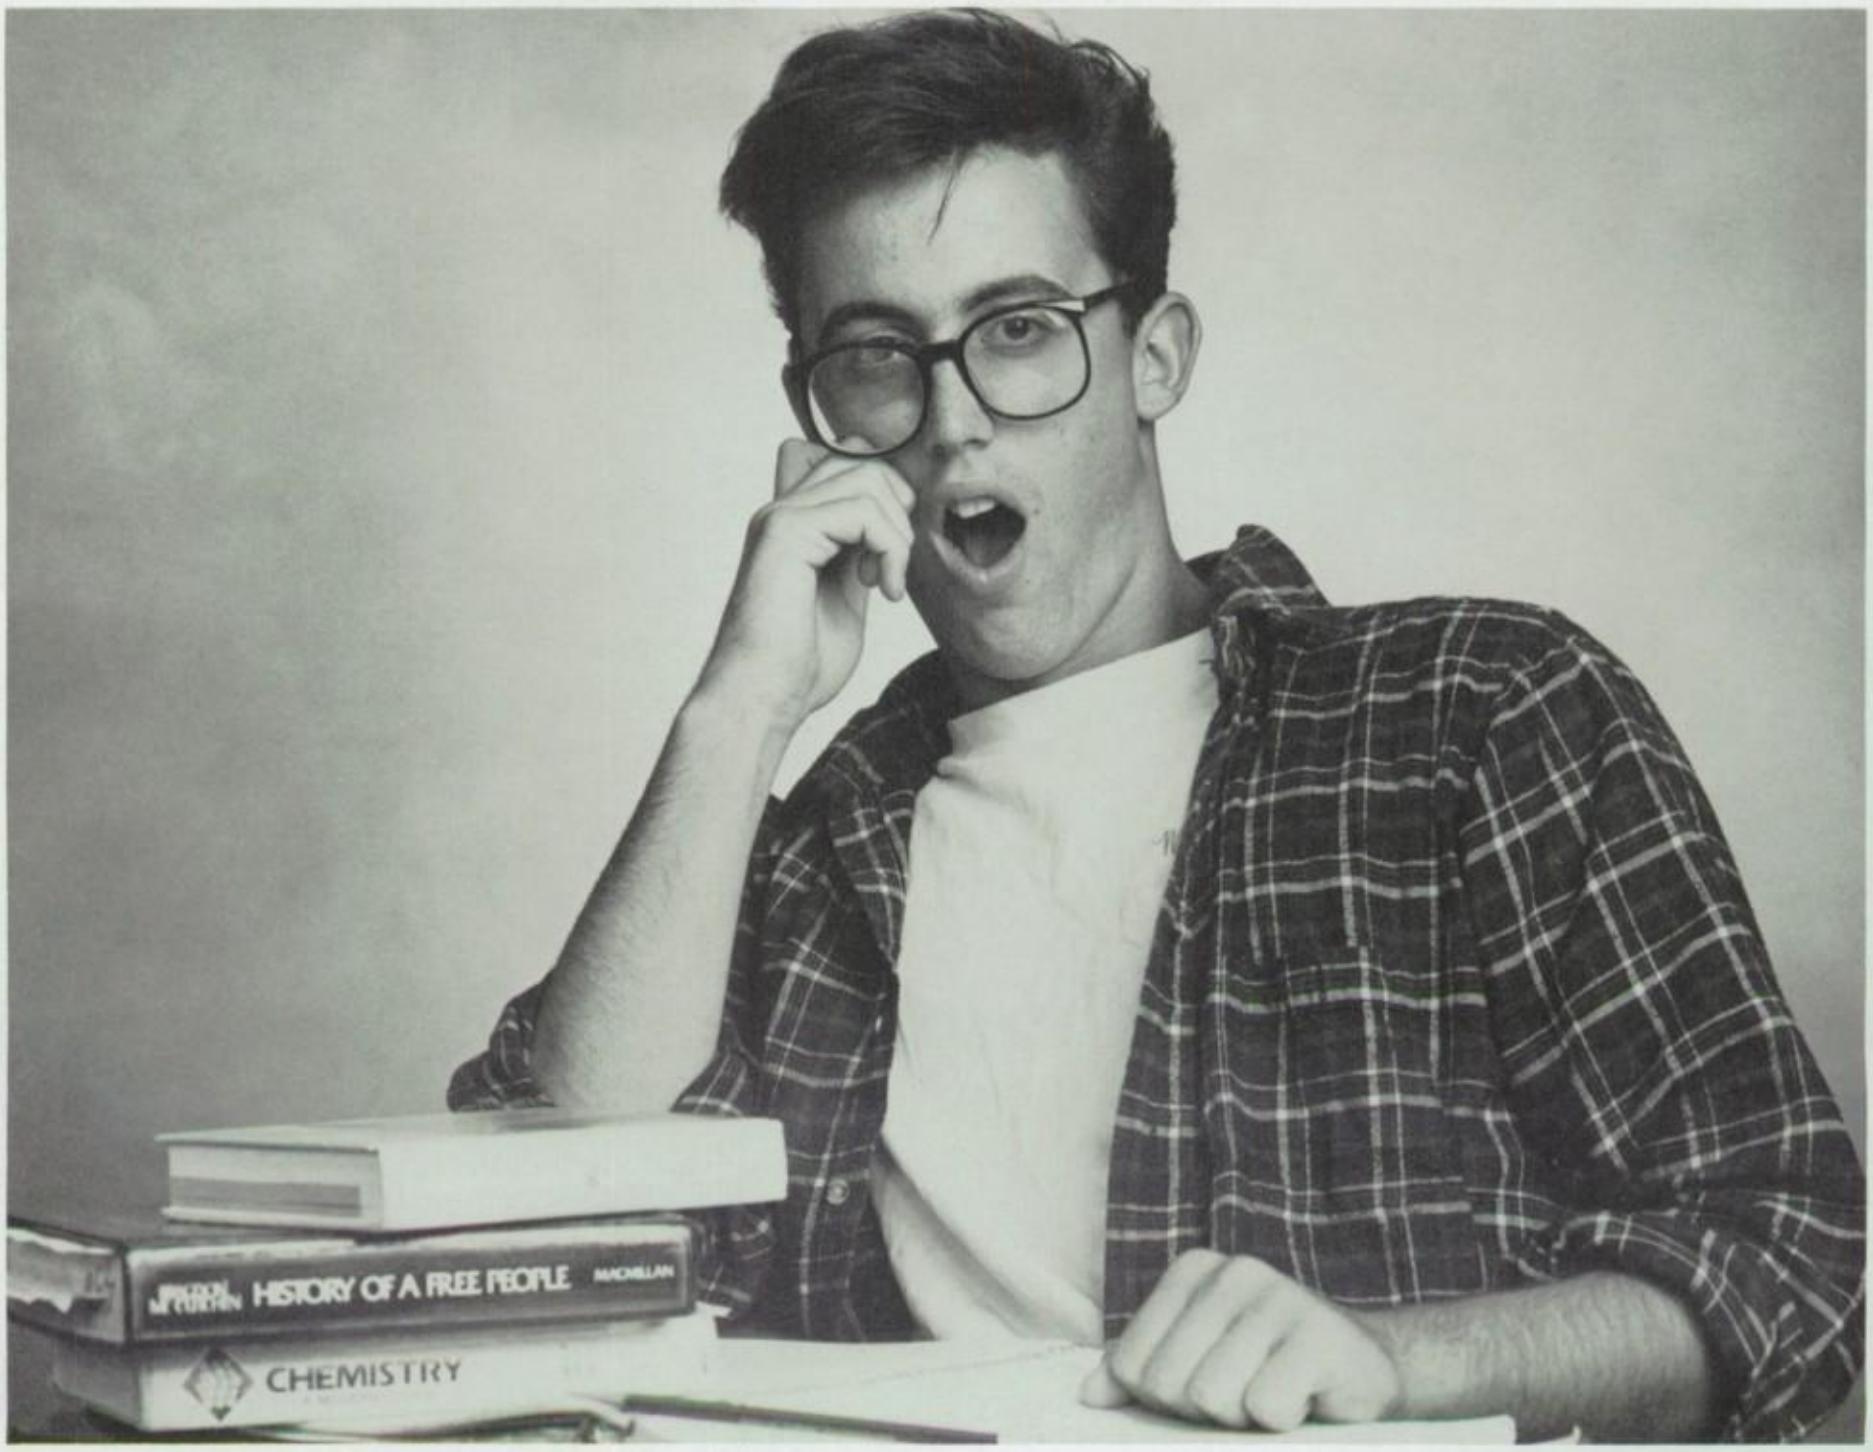
"My goals in my sophomore year included finding my locker and trying to get it open, trying to remember to always put the car in reverse before backing out of the parking lot. and of course, studing diligently."



"Something different happened IN my senior year ... Studying went from being my first priority to my last. I no longer cared about going 60 class and studying. All I look forward was the weekend excitement!!!

Junior Blues

Homework, Homework Give Me A Break



By Sabrina Sisco

Have you ever wondered what it's like to be stuck in the middle? Not noticed, not cared about? Well ask any junior and they'll tell you how it feels. Now being a sophomore can be fun and everyone knows the long awaited anticipation of being a member of the senior class but whats so great about being a part of whats become known as the junior blues? To start things off, no longer are you the baby. You can't use the excuse, "But I'm only a sophomore!" But at the same time your not an adult either. You have to endure the domineering seniors and all their fuss. What's a junior to do? And then to top things off you're faced with the hardest classes of your life. History, chemistry, Trig 3-4, and maybe a few AP classes just to name a few.

If you think things start to get better after that . . . DON'T!!!! Because you're dead wrong. In fact if anything they get worse. But don't despair there's always the weekend!! And don't forget just a few short months, and what do you know, you're a senior. And all of a sudden things start to look up. Not much higher, that doesn't happen until graduation. You still have to endure the effects of senioritis. That's not so bad though. After what you as juniors have gone through, you'll make it hopefully. Good luck!!!!

The dazed look: A very common occurance for the senior student is the dazed look. His facial expressions make us believe he has no worries. One can see his casual manner of sitting.

The ragging anger within all of us: For more reasons than anyone can mention, many of us stir into ragging fits of anger. It could be a disappointing teacher who just gave you a "g" on a math test, or maybe an unreasonable boyfriend!!! And with her eyebrows raised so-so-so high you know that that this women means business.

Body Language Hits GHS

The Stress Factor: Pay close attention to the tension that has build up inside her. She no longer can rationalize correctly. But what of course caused this stress to happen. Well, it could be a number of things. But it was probably caused by something called "Stylus"

Exploding Excitement: This reaction involves such movements as an expanding smile combined with a loud vocal sound.

The Party Patrol

Who Are They?

Who are they and why would you talk to them? Good question!!! These people are the party patrol!!! They are the people who bring the good times to GHS. Some of these groupies include sport studs, zanny scientist, and lady charmers. You know the classic sterotypes of any gang. The ladies man always has his best girl around his almost glued buddies. And every place the stud goes his friends follow. For all practical purposes they exist to make your days at GHS the best possible. And have they??? You have the answer to that question ... It may be yes or no!! What is their purpose??? Another good question ... But to be honest, no one knows the answer to that question. Most students think that they exist only for them. But faculty members think they exist only to corrupt the community. But whatever the purpose may be, we all must accept the fact that they do exist. Who is next???? Well, that is another question under close examination. We really don't know who the next victims will be. All we know that once they have been attacked there is no escape from the PARTY PARTOL. They seem to take over your brain. You are no longer satisfied with calm and controled parties. No ... now you want excitement!!! Weekend gigs are the most popular Party Patrol Hangout. But the question still remains. Who is next??? Maybe you are already part of the party patrol. We know seniors are the most dedicated party patrol members. But if you are not part of the party patrol beware because you will never be the same after they have attacked.

What Is Their Purpose?

Who Is Next?

Class Of '88 Knows What's Happenin'

FAVORITE CAR	Ferrari
FAVORITE BEVERAGE	Diet Coke
FAVORITE MOVIE	Top Gun
LUNCH-SPOT	Burger King
HANG OUT	Walnut Grove
CURFEW	1:30 AM
COMMON DATE	Movies and Dinner
WEEKEND ACTIVITY	Party
DREAM DATES	Lawrence Oeon/ Kristen Benz

By Sabrina Sisco

Everbody has a favorite movie, car, or beverage. Almost everyone has gone out on a date and then argued with their parents about what time to be home. And we've all dreamed about that one special person we'd consider our dream date. Well, the yearbook staff wanted to know what these favorites were, when you went on dates and what time you had to be home, and who that dream date really is. So a survey was passed out to the members of the class of '88 and these were the results. In the category of favorite car one would think BMW, right? Wrong!! Ferrari won, hands down. Of course the ever popular Diet Coke got the award for favorite beverage and for movie of the year Top Gun received the highest honors. Eating lunch off campus is a common occurence and all though Tommy's is an all-time favorite, Burger King is popular because of its close location. A typical week-end goes as follows: When on a date movies and dinner took first place, while when with friends going to a party and then hanging out at Walnut Grove soared to the top. All the action is usually over by 1:30 AM leaving just a few stragglers behind. Last but not least are those dream dates. See if you can recognize their faces. If not just take a look above. Thank you again for your cooperation and have fun next year!!

What Nightmares Lurk Within The Minds Of Sophomores

By: Amy Chu

Have you ever waken up in the middle of the night, shaken, in a cold sweat, and just frightened out of your mind? Don't be afraid to admit that you have experienced such a dilema, because you are not alone. Everybody, at one time or another, has dreamt of being eaten by Godzilla, of falling off a five-hundred story building, and of being terrorized by Freddie. But what kind of dreams do Sophomores have? One of the worst nightmares a Sophomore can have is finding himself lost in the cafeteria. To a young Sophomore, it feels as if he is a teeny-weeny speck of dust in the midst of a sea of people. It is sad but it's true. Bill Wild is also very often a very popular character in a Sophomore's nightmare. Being sent to Wild Bill's office is a dilema for anybody, but to a Sophomore, this experience is equivelent to being judged by God on Judgement Day! Driving is also a bad deal because 10th graders often find a way to park in the "NO PARKING" section and thus receive a ticket. Life is definitly tough for a Sophomore!

Upper Right: Where am I? A Sophomore's view of the cafeteria.
Golly Gee Darn! I swear I did not see that sign when I parked the car, officer!

A Sophomore's life does not have to be boring, as a matter of fact, it could be a very interesting and learning experience. It's a big change from Jr. High, and may be a little frustrating, but if you're lucky, you may be able to find someone to share your high school ordeals with. As Gordon Schaffner and Soo Hong discovered, having someone to be there when you're stressing is great! Everything is delightful when you FALL IN LOVE FOR THE FIRST TIME! Even in the worst situations, you can still feel fantastic. Just ask Soo and Gordon; they'll tell you how great it is to be in love. Don't look so surprised Soo, you're surely in love.

They ought to be in pictures. Ahhhhhh . . . Aren't they cute! Lynn Reynolds and Caroline Yerkes look picture perfect as they pose for Dave (the official photographer for the 1986-1987 Stylus). Alright Dave, can you please stick your tongue back in your mouth, and you can also put your eyes back into their sockets while you're at it. It's true that these girls are cute, but they're only Sophomores.

To most Sophomores, Health and Guidance is the best class. Why? The answer is very simple. In Health and Guidance class one is able to relax, kick-back, have fun, learn to drive (and as a result go out more often), and take SEX EDUCATION (and as a result . . .??)! Well, anyway Health and Guidance is a great class, but Sophomores can get a little carried away, because it doesn't matter how great a class is nobdy should get too excited about going to class. As you can see, Wanda loves her H/G class (but maybe too much)!

Dare to . . .

SADD

By Betty Herrera

This year the media was able to inform us of the reoccurring drug problem around the world, within the country and specifically within our school systems. The most frequently abused drug was alcohol. And statistics have shown, driving while being drunk has risen as the abuse of alcohol has increased. Therefore, an awareness organization to that problem was formed. And as one may recall, the first organization was MADD, Mothers Against Drunk Drivers. And in corrolation with MADD, SADD was formed. Students Against Drunk Drivers is aimed at the young driver who is most likely to drive while being drunk. On an average the majority of the drunk drivers were between the ages of 16-22. SADD is an organization with the goal of combating alcoholic consumption that leads to drunk driving. In the past students were taught by "adults" on the being issue of alcoholism. But students felt as if they were preached and lectured and hence ignored their efforts. SADD encourages to make friends and acquaintances aware of the issues and dangers of Drunk Driving. And the prior problem of lecturing is abolished because the organization is run by the students themselves.

"The students might be more aware of this serious problem if a club such as SADD did exist..."

Every year thousands of injuries and deaths are caused by drunk drivers. It is not only the responsibility of every individual, but also the responsibility of his friends. Hundreds of accidents could have been prevented if only someone cared enough to stop someone else from drinking and driving. It's not amusing to see your friend drive off in his car and afterwards see him in jail. And why would he be in jail? Because he was drunk while driving and because he added another statistic to the many senseless murders caused within our own community. But of course, these victims are more than statistics. They are innocent people who were either injured or killed because of the stupidity of someone else. Many of the students of Glendale High School have given their opinion of the organization SADD. And this is what they had to say:

> "It's important to call someone if you are drunk, you shouldn't feel responsible that you have to drive."

"People must change on their own before an organization like SADD can help them."

Stylus Dares To Be Stylin'

By Gina Wilson

Hot. The three letter word that describes this year's STYLUS class. This core of hard working students binded together to create one sensational YEARBOOK. Our editor, Betty "Boop" Herrera has been great making sure everyone meets their deadlines and proof reads. This year's photo coordinator was Susan Rogers and our STYLUS photographers were Todd Fabian, David Huang, Kenji Luster, and Eric Mitchell. The sports section was done by Tom Alan and Tara Persinger and ads were done by Alex Berry and Beth Mudie. Mike Fong and Angelique Encarnacion did color activities while Jenny Pallasch did black and white. The tough job of faculty was done by Vickie Atikian and Tomar Igoyan. The sophomore, junior, and senior sections were done by Amy Chu, Sabrina Sisco, Artine Assatourian, and Amy Jim respectively. Amy Jim was also our Business manager. John Waldron and Gina Wilson tackled the hard job of organizations. Our primo STYLUS artist this year has been Alicia John and Mr. "Doc" Griffiths has been an outstanding advisor who we appreciate for all his work.

Explosion Explodes Into '86-'87

By Gina Wilson

Winner of the Medalist Award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the First Place Award from Quill and SCroll, The Explosion is among the top high school newspapers in the country. Trying to maintain the paper's level of excellence and incorporating new ideas and innovations, the hectic and time-consuming job of editor was held by Rashmi Sadana who served as Explosion Editor for the second year in a row.

In its coverage of multi various events and people, the Explosion offered enjoyment, interest, controversy, excitement, and advice. Ed Mahoney ran the feature department and was responsible for flashy and sometimes off-beat material. Kari Edleman handled the movie stars and press kits as entertainment editor, and Mihran Berejikian brought cover to cover pages of Glendale High sports to the Explosion as sports editor. The informative and varied supplements were created by Supplement Editor Kim Anderson. Assistant Editor Monica Madrid handled the new pages while Editorial Editor, Laurel Meyers, provided interest and deep intellectual thought in the editorial and opinion sections.

The Explosion photographers were Lisa Perry and David Huang. Ellen Lee was the Cartoonist and was often aided by Armen Kupelian who brought controversial attitudes to the editorial cartoons. Salpi Ohannesian and Reina Prado took the advertising aspect of the paper and successfully handled large sums of money. The other members of the staff who did not have official titles but contributed greatly by doing layouts and writing stories were Wilbert Alvarado, Jon Fear, Amy Jim, Nancy Kang, Hazel Llamado, Claire Phoon, Marina Smith, Berinada Barr, and Joy Valdecantos. Finally, helping editor to pull the paper together and keep the peace was Explosion adviser, Miss Judy Lind.

Mats Lundquist

Hi there! My name is Mats Lundquist and I'm from Stockholm, the capital of Sweden. Stockholm has about 1.1 million inhabitants, so in comparison with L.A. it is like a small village. Back in Sweden, I studied economics at a school called Spanea Gymnasium. On my spare time in Sweden I do about the same things American teenagers do but I also enjoy fencing. Over here I am on the track team, something I really enjoy.

There are many differences between the U.S. and Sweden. When I arrived to L.A. in August '86 I got kind of a culture shock. However, I am really enjoying myself here in California and I think it's a great experience. Some of the reasons I came here as an exchange student are: I wanted to meet a lot of people. Furthermore, I also wanted to meet and understand the American culture. Of course I miss my friends and my family. Christmas was a real hard time. I got a lot of letters and phone calls from Sweden so I started to miss my country. But as long as you keep occupied you don't start thinking about your country. I go back in July, 1987. I'm sure that I then will have a great year behind me. I want to take this opportunity to say thank you to G.H.S. I also want to say thank you to my host family, the Moore's.

Thank you all! Mats.

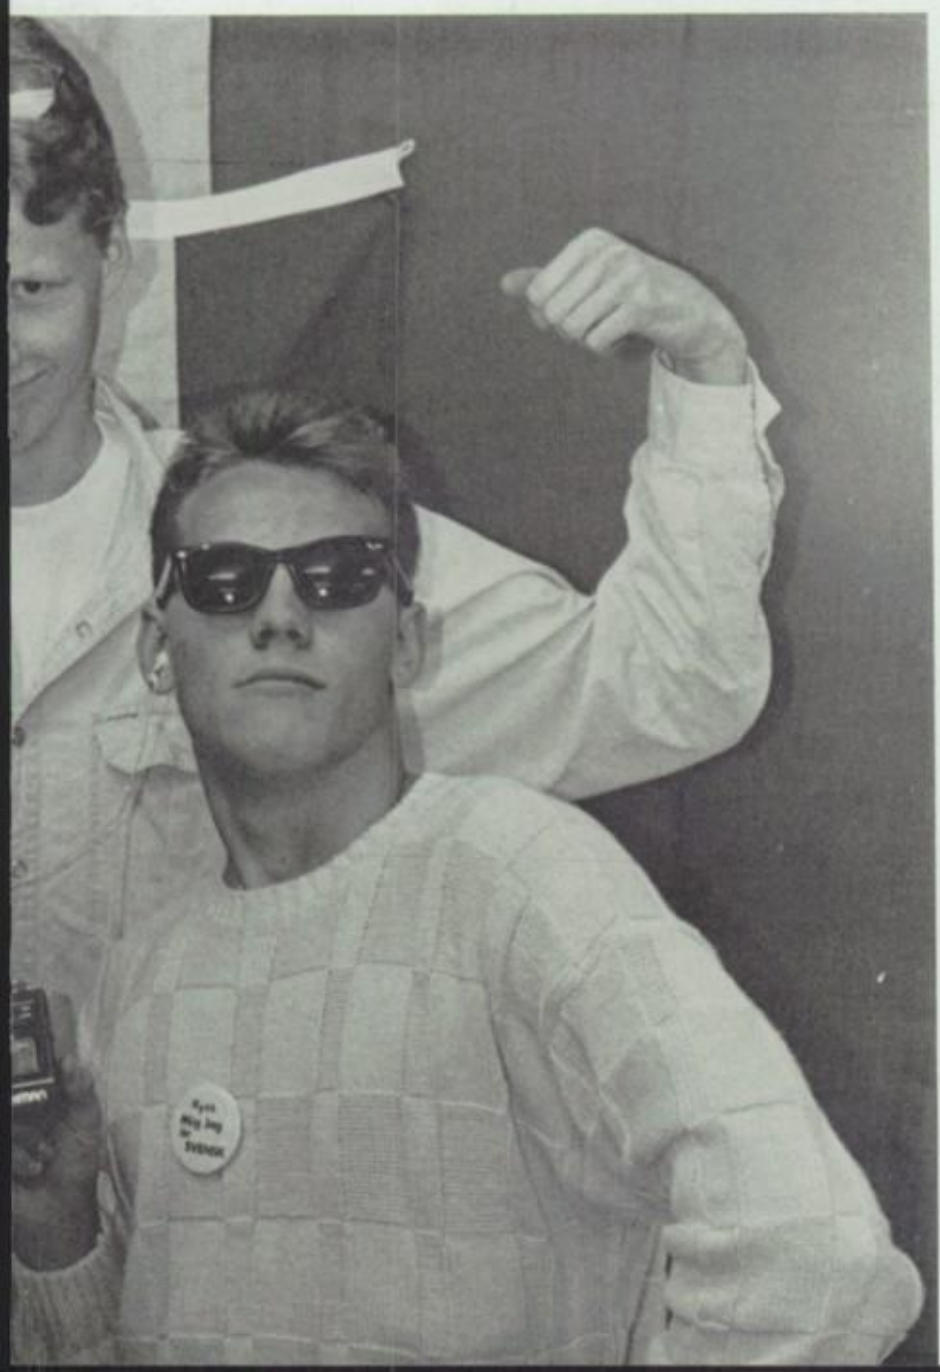
Vikings Discover America
Foreign Exchange Students Come To GHS.

By Patrick Quast

Hi there: My name is Patrick Quast. I am the big tall foreign exchange student from Hamberg, Germany. I m seventeen years old and I came to California in August. It vas very hot that day and I loved it. The sun burned my skin nough. California is the dream land to most teenagers, and ow I can swim and snow ski at the same time of year. But I on't like it that school lasts so long. In my country we get out t 1:00 and have less homework. After homework we go shop- ing or swimming or go to the movies and hang around. In Germany the air is much cleaner than in L.A. Therefore it was ard for me to get used to it here. It's nice that one can drive at 6 in the U.S. You must be 18 years of age in Germany. In merica it seems one is helpless without a car though. I won't orget my time in the U.S. It is great here in California, and I want o come here many times. And of course, I will never forget the iends that I have made at this school.

Patrick Quast



By Mogans Larson

Hi! My name is Mogans Larsen. I am from Denmark. I live in a little town called Skandefbors. 10,000 live in this town but we still do quite the same things as we do here. I like the weather over here because it is warmer and nicer and you can do more when it is warm, like go to the beach. The school system is different over there, so it took me a while to get used to it here. Now it is easier because I think in English. I even dream in English. I am on the school track team. I like the "school life" and my spare time, because I am meeting a lot of new and nice people, and that is one of the main reasons I am an exchange student. If the last part of my stay is as good as the first, then I am sure that it is going to be the greatest experience of my life.

Club Participation Continues In '87

by Vahe Shirikjian and Suk Lim

The Armenian Club was formed in 1978 to promote understanding and interest in Armenian heritage, culture and language. The club is an integral part of Glendale High School, and commemorates special historical and cultural events. The goal of this club is to supply Armenian books for the school library and to grant scholarships to outstanding students and to recognize teacher/parent dedication through an "Appreciation Night".

The Armenian Club also has guest speakers, talking about Armenian heritage, culture, and the language. The club is lead by our sponsor, Mrs. Mahseredjian, contributes a different culture to the Glendale High School campus. The club also sponsors a visit to U.C.L.A. for juniors and seniors in the beginning of the year.

This years Korean Club, with the advising of Mr. Hagen, has set forth many goals, throughout the 86-87 school year. The Korean Club wishes to further achieve a union among the Korean-Americans. The Korean club has participated in numerous school and athletic activities, capturing 1st place in the annual K.Y.C. (Korean Youth Center) Volleyball tournament.

The Science club has held a chemistry demonstration by Mr. Daniels. We are intending to have Mr. Lockheep hold a physics demonstration. This year we have already hosted Dr. Raul Mena, a hemotologist. The doctor explained some facts about cancer. We intend on hosting a physicist who will hopefully take halograms and explain the basics of lasers. We are currently selling tickets for Magic Mountain. This will be our club trip for this year. We have shown several movies about space, lasers, etc.

The pep club had a very strong start at the beginning of the year displaying their spirit at the football games. Under the leadership of Mrs. Frazer, the members were instructed and taught cheers as the varsity pep squad would be performing. Since first semester the enthusiasm has burnt off but we hope for more involvement next year.

Clubs Plan To Continue Their Success This Year

By John Waldron

Headed by club president Susan Cabrera, the Latin American Club have continued in outstanding club participation. Not to be confused with the Spanish Club, they have unified and enriched Latin American culture at Glendale High School this year. Cabrera has done a fine job in keeping the Latin American spirit alive, as well as the results the club has received. The Latin American club promises to continue in excellence and activity as years pass on at GHS.

Again the members of the German club would like to say Gruss Gott! This is how to say hello, and the German club has been saying this for years here at GHS. The German club has helped bring out the regularly docile German culture at Glendale this year to continue in the club's many years of success. Of course the club plans to continue this success for years to come!

German Club Members: Darla Gratin, Gabriela Inga, Pierre, Steve Sanford, Kristin Strutton, David Hwang, Ed Savay, Carmen Inga, Fabiola Curtea, Rina Jamison, Steve Wright, Ross French.

Chess Club Members: James Snelling, David Hwang, Dan Hagerty, Ross French, Jason, Charlene Rogers, Sonia Gonzales, Mark Rizzi, Swain Jones, Betty Herrera, Dave Dryden.

By James Snelling and Gina Wilson

The Social Science Club had been dedicated to informing its members about current events, encouraging them to broder their perspectives of the economy and the government. With the help of debates and presentations, members were able to examine many interpretations of the issues. Under the supervision of Allen Conwell, it linked future leaders of our society to the ideas and techniques of the social sciences in accomplishing their goals.

The Ski Club had planned various trips throughout the year. Mr. Bonaguidi did a great job as a sponsor. The club hopes for an increase in membership next year so that trips can cost less.

The Chess club is not very well known at Glendale High but it does have some chess competitions. The chess club really hasn't been involved in any of the carnivals but will probably get more involved next year.

The Chinese Club was formed two years ago by highly spirited Chinese students of G.H.S. who wanted to keep the tradition and customs alive. This school year 1986-1987 has definitely been a success. To begin with the Chinese Club sold their famous fried rice and wantons at the beat Hoover carnival and P.M.M.A. carnival. Under the supervision of Mrs. Melgun, and president David Hwang and especially through the cooperation of all the members, the Chinese Club showed unity of which they should be proud of.

The drama club of 1986-1987 will be involved in many activities from going to "live" taping of television shows to a trip to the Reinassance Faire. A special treat and a first at Glendale High School, will be guest speakers from the television industry, who will come to share their experience and advice with the drama club members.

This year the Spanish Club had a great start with a couple of sales. The first one was for beat Hoover day carnival on which we sold our traditional chilli and chips. The second sale we had was on Round-up night on which we sold quesadillas. The traditional Olvera St. trip which is taken in December was carried on again this year. We had a good number of people attend this event. Aside from that, we played a game of softball with the Latin-American Club. Unfortunately, we lost. We had agreed that the loser would treat the winner to pizza so we kept our part of the deal. Our club is proud to say we are among the first clubs to receive our sweatshirts! This new semester we hope will be more prosperous.

The Fil-American Club strikes again. The Fil-American club was not able to participate in the first semester activities but became very effective on the second semester. The credits should be given to the president Angelique Encannation, for organizing the club once again. Under the supervision of the advisor, Miss Rita Rodriguez and the cooperation of the members, the club was able to communicate with the others schools' Fil-American club. The rest of the officers are Allen Yap, vice-president, Anna Jose, secretary; Myra Gomez, treasurer; and the Hazel Llamado, director of publicity. The purpose of the club is to keep the Filipino traditions, customs, and cultures alive. Especially now that the courage of the Filipinos was shown during the takeover of government by President Aquino. People were used as 'human barricades', during the short revolution for freedom! Somehow, even though these Filipino members were here, it had an effect on their attitude. They suddenly felt a sense of unity.

Hands Across Campus Unifies GHS

By Gina Wilson and Richard Erbes

The 1986-1987 Hands Across Campus club of Glendale High School has been consistently active in campus activities. This is the club's third year in the service of promoting international unity across the campus.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Long and leadership of Richard Erbes, the Hands Across Campus club has made considerable head-way. Through its participation in both the Homecoming carnival and Round-Up. The club's goal of pulling together different ethnical groups is continually achieved. This club had adopted a new program involving new student orientation which shows dedication and service to the school as a whole.

Started last year, the G.H.S. art club is recently new. Though we got off on a slow start, the club is optimistic about the future. Formed to give art students and those who appreciate art a chance to come together, we talk about art in today's society. The club works to keep its members informed about current news in the art world as well as special programs involving the arts.

GHS Is S.A.D.D. And Going To College

By Gina Wilson and Rashmi Sandana

The S.A.D.D. chapter of our campus got off to a late start this year but had no problem with membership. Being brought to our campus for the first time, S.A.D.D. has a membership of 150 of which also volunteer their time to Glendale Safe-Rides. Gina Wilson is the founder of this club and hopes that the club keeps up involvement in the years to come.

The Club for College Bound Students worked diligently this year to help Glendale High students prepare for the beastly S.A.T. Under the intense leadership of co-presidents Rashmi Sandana and Gina Wilson, the club sold used S.A.T. books to students at reduced costs. The costs. The Club also held math and verbal S.A.T. study sessions. But, most importantly, the college club was known for it's scrumptious "brainy brownies" that sold at the Homecoming and P.N.M.A. carnivals. The money earned from the brownies and the S.A.T. went toward the A.S.B./College Club.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Grace & Trish Frenz 4 Ever

By Betty Herrera

The sports world is by no means small in both fans and participants. And at Glendale High there is no exception. The sports within GHS vary from football to badmitton. But they all appear to have one thing in common; endurance and dedication. Every player in each team makes a difference to a winning or losing team. Although many teams had either a winning victories or devastating defeats, the teams always gave 110%.

Daily practices are one cause other students may not participate in the athletic program. But for these few elite students, daily rigorous work-outs become a routine. Hard driving coaches are given credit for strenuous work-outs. But what would our sports teams be without these great coaches? It's almost scary to think about the possibility. Another factor that added to the success of our teams was the spirit groups. They cheered, sang and even cried when our teams lost. But of course one of the most important aspects of a good team is the audience attendance. And on behalf of all the athletic teams, thank you goes out to all parents and students who went to support our teams. Thanks again.

Varsity Turns The Program Around

By Tom Alan

Varsity football at Glendale had a dramatic turn around last season year due to the success of the past season. It had been four years, since the Nitros won a league game and six years since they made it to the playoffs. Yet, last season they ended that losing tradition by two remarkable league victories and a fortunate wildcard birth. Glendale started out the season as they did last year with a 3-2 pre-season record. They had victories over Alhambra, 13-10; Eagle Rock 31-6; Burbank 12-10; and losses to Bell Jeff, 2-14; and Burroughs 6-28. As the varsity squad moved into league, they didn't want to repeat of last year by losing their next five games. But the team looked as if they did by losing to Arcadia, 0-28. In the following week, the Nitro players were shocked by the decision of starting quarterback Joey O'Neil, to quit the team. However, this incident was the turning point of the season, when the Nitors changed their offense to the veer and had Jimmy Godoy take control of the offense at quarterback. Godoy's first game at quarterback was a tough one against Pasadena, but he gave the Nitros a new dimension by his extra effort scrambling. The Nitro's defense held Pasadena to a three Point lead going into the fourth quarter, but the Bulldogs stopped Glendale on offense and managed two late scores to beat Glenda,e 19-3. In the following week, Glendale was to play heavily favored Muir, which was one of the top high school football teams in the state. Glendale lost 0-15, but they shocked Muir by allowing them only two touchdowns. According to the coaches, the game was a moral victory, but the players felt different. They were tired of hearing the repeated phrases each week, that they had played a great game. Therefore, to change the usual post-game speech, the varsity needed a win. In the next game the Nitros ignited on offense and dominated on defense to beat C.V., 36-13. This victory ended the losing tradition, and it repaid C.V. for their last second win, the previous season. But the Nitros had to beat Hoover in order to achieve a playoff birth. Both teams struggled offensively during the entire game, but Glendale prevailed over Hoover with a striking last minute struggle touchdown. The drive was set up by a punt return that was aided by Hoovers fifteen yard penalty. As a result, Glendale started the drive at the Hoover thirty yard line, but the touchdown was set up by a brilliant Jimmy Godoy scramble to the one yard line. At that point the Nitros punched it in to defeat Hoover, 7-0. However, the success of last season is largely credited to the Nitros defense. Being ranked number one in the area, the Nitros defense influenced the C.I.F. to accept Glendale into the playoffs. Thus, the Nitros entered the playoffs as a wild card to be throughly defeated by the Lancers of Thousand Oaks, 8-35. The Nitros finished the season with an overall record of 5-6, and by winning two of their league games last season, they ended the losing tradition at Glendale.

The Sophomore Football Team finished the season with a 5-5 record, but the mediocre record didn't reveal the type of team that they were. They opened up their season in a harsh way with a last minute loss to Alhambra, 7-12. However, in the following three games, the sophomores thoroughly dominated with imprressive victories over Eagle Rock, 21-0; Bell Jeff, 35-7; and Burroughs, 20-10. In the pre-season closer, the sophomores suffered another come from behind loss, when Burbank took the final drive of the game for a touchdown to overcome Glendale, 14-17. As the sophomores entered the league with a 3-2 pre-season record, they experienced their worst defeat of the season to Arcadia, 7-14. This loss was the only one in which the lead got out of reach for the Nitros. But, the sophomores fought back again with victories over Pasadena, 14-8, which ended on a forfeit and Muir, 28-8. At this time, the sophomores had a 2-1 league record, and the league championship was theirs, if they could defeat Crescenta Valley, who was undefeated. They struggled most of the game, allowing the Falcons a commendable nine points, but the offense didn't generate a score in the 0-9 loss. Moving into Hoover week, the sophomores championship hopes were finished, but their pride and redemptions for their past losses were placed on the outcome of this game. Once again, the sophomores opened up an early lead; however, Hoover managed to put together a drive late in the fourth quarter to edge ahead of Glendale, 12-10. The sophomore season ended in disappointment, but with all of the talent and determination that they had, they could turn the varsity program around in the next few years.

Another Wet & Wild Season For H_2O

By Betty Herrera

The crazy season of waterpolo involved much strenuous work. Morning workouts that lasted from 6-7:00 made these men realize that there's more to H_2O than just fun and games. This rigorous practice doesn't end because they practice again from 2-4:30 in the afternoon. And this continues everyday. But as Lawrence Ocon would say "Its all been worth it . . ." This season has been the best that Glendale High has seen in many years. The varsity team places 2nd in League in which they went into double overtime. When the Nitros went to CIF they played 2 rounds against the top seeded team. The captains of the team are Jimmy Damron, Todd Byer and Man Lien.

Glendale sophomore waterpolo has been a great success this season. But of course this didn't come by easy. These young men worked very diligently and long hours to accomplish their goals of a great team. This goal doesn't take much when you have great players such as Leo Ocon, Nick Kaufman, John Obradovich, and James Paisley. But of course one of the hardest things must be when you are the goalie. And Steve Berenisen has made this job look very easy. He has achieved great admiration from his team members as well as the varsity players. The sophomore waterpolo players placed 2nd in League to Crescenta Valley.

Second In League And On To CIF

By: Tara Persinger

The 1986 girls volleyball season was a well deserved one for Glendale's Varsity Team. They placed second in the league with a 8-2 record, defeated only by Arcadia. Then onto CIF, where they were defeated in the first found. Paula Dallas was named M.V.P., Amy Erichsen and Audra Sanders were named Most Improved. Paula Dallas and Amy Erichsen were 1st team all league, Cindy King and Cindy Haney were named 2nd team all league, and Jennie Jutras and Jennifer Long were named Honorable Mention.

J.V. Bumps To Victory

By Tara Persinger

The 1986 Junior Varsity Team was Strongly coached by Jack Trotter. The J.V.'s finished with a record of 8-2 and placed 2nd in the league. Mr. Jack Trotter says, "The players improved a lot, and need to work hard in the off season to improve if they want to play varsity next year. The year was a success overall, although the team played inconsistently at times. M.V.P.- Jane Ong (setter)-most improved-Fatima Jose.

Cross Country Has Promising Season

By Tom Alan

Perhaps the biggest change to take place in the Boys Cross Country team is head coach Jim Jordan. John Barnes who was Jim's high school coach has become the Atheletic Coordinator in charge of Track and Cross Country. The 1986 Boys Varsity Cross Country team improved on last years disappointing fifth place finish (1 win 5 losses). This years team placed third in the Pacific League, (possibly one injury away from second place) and qualified for C.I.F. prelims. The team was led by seniors Richard Erbes, who finished his senior season as the two time C.I.F. 4-A champion. Richard's winning time of 15:14.5 was a life time best on the hilly Mt. Sac three mile course. Other seniors that contributed to the varsity were Oscar Camacho (second team all league), Steve Wright, Kelly Hazen, and Ed Mahoney. Three juniors competed on the varsity team: Alex Plancarte, Erik Schou, and Zareh Movssessian.

This years Girls Varsity Team had an outstanding record of five wins and one loss. The loss to C.V. In the second meet of the year proved to be a costly one as C.V. went on to win the League Title with a 5-0 season. The team pulled off an upset at the league Finals meet losing to C.V. by 7 points (40-47). In the Dual meet C.V. had earlier beaten us by 23 points (20-43) by putting seven girls in front of our number two girl. The fact that this meet was so close showed how much the girls team improved over the season. The top female runner in the city of Glendale is, without a doubt, GHS's Senior, Jane Oh. Jane placed 2nd in league losing to Pasadena Senior Suzette Basore (last years Pacific League Champion) with the exception of Basore, Jane was undefeated in Dual meet competition. Jane was athlete of the month, Sept. 86, and third fastest time for a Glendale girl on the Verdugo Park course. Jane was not the only outstanding runner on this team. Glendale has the best Sophomore runner in the league. She is Anna Melikidse who joins Jane on the First Team all League (the only sophomore to make first team). Anna is the former Freshman school record holder on the Verdugo course at 22:05.

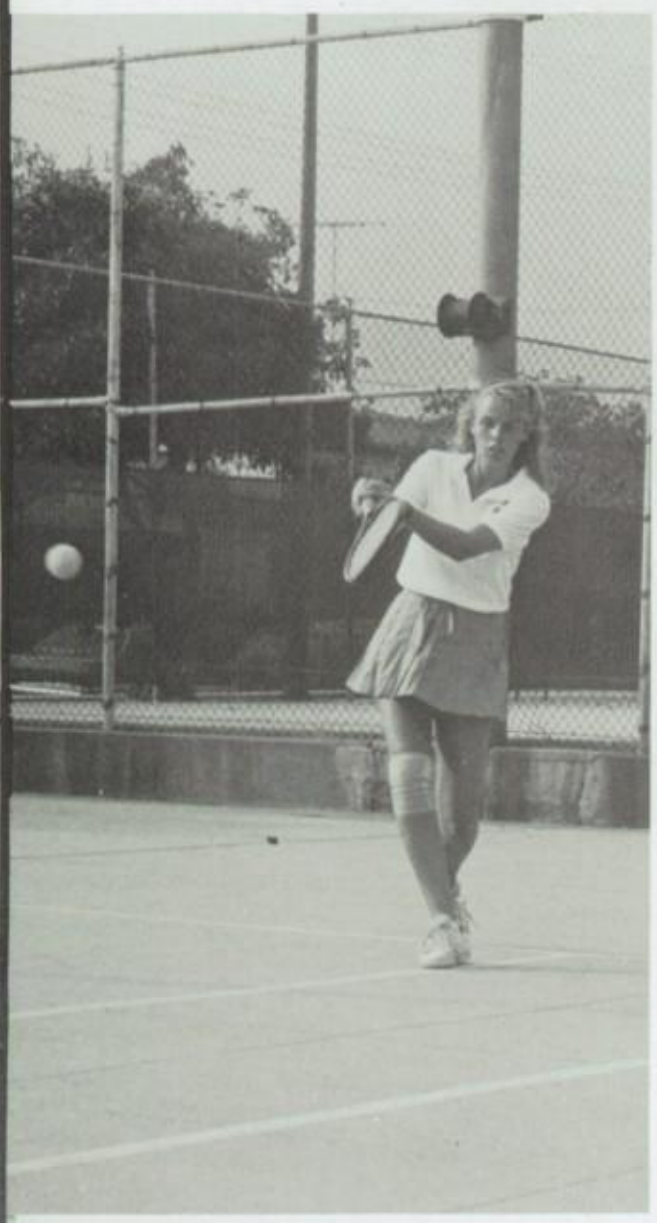
Best Season For Girls Varsity!



By Tom Alan

According coach Rogerson, the Varsity team had one of it's best seasons in several years with an overall record of 16 wins and only 2 losses. The team beat Hoover both times and managed to go the C.I.F. in team and individual. The team was led by Anna Jose and Kieu Lien who represented the Pacific League in the C.I.F. and were on the all Area team. Other varsity players that contributed to the success of the season were Debbie Boget and Kristin Kneiding who were placed 4th in the Pacific League and were also on the All Area team.

A Successful Season

By Tom Alan

The J.V. girls tennis team had a successful season ending with a record of 13-2. The team finished second in the league with victories over Mui, 17-1 and 16-2; C.V., 12-7 and 13-5; Pasadena, 17-1; Hoover, 13-5 and 11-7. The teams only loss was to Arcadia, 5-13. In singles, the J.V. girls were led by Caroline Yerkes, Kristin Karlin, and Michelle Nishikawa. In doubles, Kathy Mong and Phuong Chau were the number one J.V. doubles team. While Julie Byer and Jeannie Mulcahey were number two, and Judy Leung and Phuong Hoang were number three.

Disappointing Defeat In CIF

By Tom B. Alan

The Glendale Varsity Basketball team had another terrific year with an overall record of 20-4. Prior to league the Nitros finished 2nd in the Simi Valley tournament and 1st in the Holiday Classic and Loyola tournaments. During league the team suffered only two startling defeats to C.V., 50 to 51 and Muir, 70 to 72. However, the team bounced back to destroy teams like Hoover, 81 to 49 and Arcadia, 84 to 55. The Varsity was led by senior center, Alex Berry, junior forwards, Jeff Sofro and Dan Johnson, and senior guards Mike McHale and Mike McDowell. Entering the playoffs, the Nitros ranked 4th in the 4A-C.I.F. and were favored to win it all. Yet, their season ended in disappointment with a last second loss to Ventura, 55-57.

Always Trying Their Best . . .

By: Amy Chu

This year's Girl's Basketball was a really good team with Coach Heefe. This year's Junior Varsity Team consisted of the following girls: Karineh Arzemanian, Ronda Brown, Alice Cho, Ayko Jingozian, Anna Manvelyan, Angela Mungaray, Kimberly Myers, Michelle Nishikawa, Jenny Pallasch, and Carolyn Tomanian. Coach Heefe lead these girls through thick and thin, and he never let them look down upon themselves. Better known as the Peach-Heads, the girls always tried to take on their opponents as best they could. They may not have always won, but they always gave their opponents a great fight. As Coach Heefe always said to them, "It doesn't matter if we win or loose Peach-Heads, It's that we tried we tried our best!" And that is exactly what these girls did.

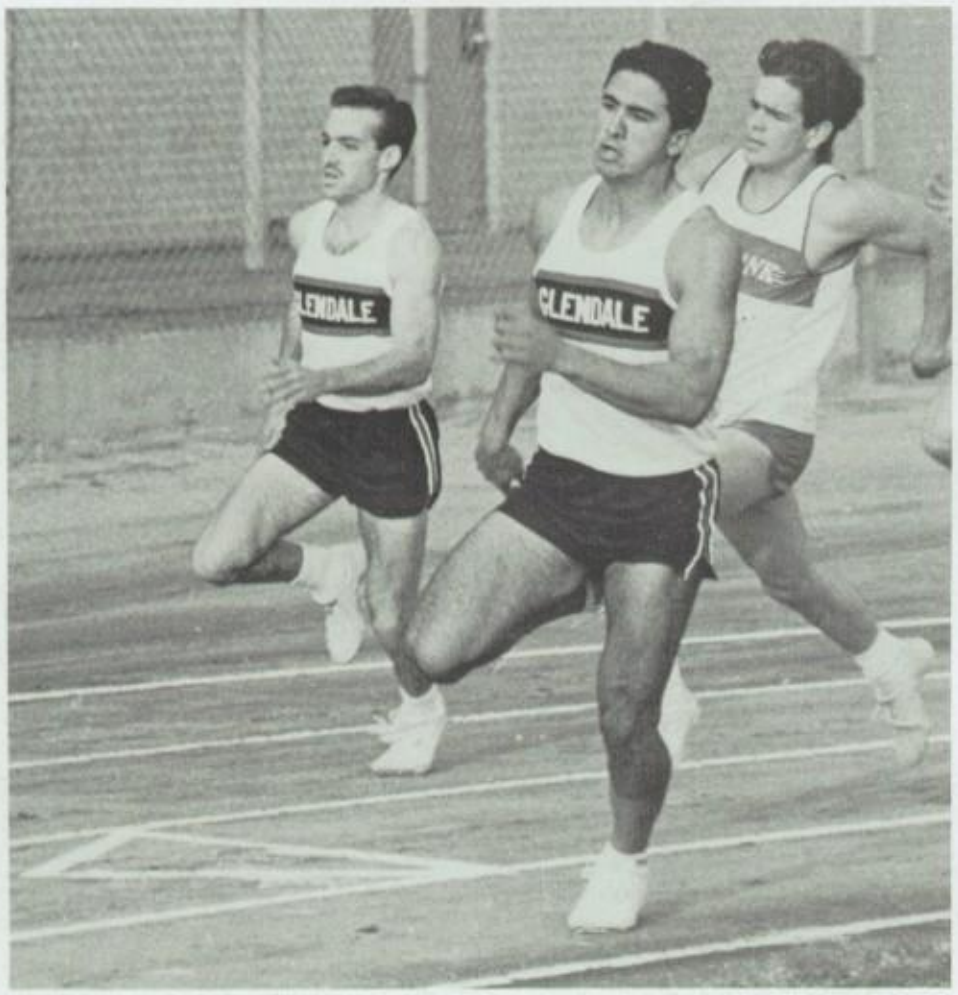
Another Great Season For Boys Track



By Artine Assatourian

Last year's track team lost four meets but, like the girls' track team, they won the city championship trophy. The returning runner, senior, Richard Erbes, is once again the highlight of this year's team. Last year, Richard Erbes won the two mile run championship which led him to win the state meet. He looks forward to the state meet and hopes to win this year. His only competition is San Diego School's Mark Davis for long distance. This years captains include Richard Erbes, Allen Acopian, and Mike Lockheimer.

Last year the girls track team were the co-champs in line in Muir High School. The team lost only one meet to Muir but managed to win the city championship meet trophy. This year's team consists of only three seniors out of a group of 32 girls. The team captains are Jane Oh, Liz Weaver, and Kim Smith.

"This year's team has more depth than last year. The girls work more as a team while last year they worked as individuals," said Coach Broneer. He believes that this year's team is very strong in most of their events. This year's highlight athlete is Jane Oh. She is the second best runner in the league. The girls' team hopes to successfully continue competition into C.I.F.

The Glendale High's Badminton team has been in the CIF for three years. With a team like this what else could coach Rogerson ask for? For three years the badminton team had been undefeated. Will this luck continue? Coach Rogerson thought so as she commented, "This group of kids are very talented yet they are a little inexperienced!" When Coach Rogerson was asked whether the team would make it to CIF, she responded, "Yes definitely". The teams' hardest competitions are Alhambra and Pasadena High Schools. The three best players of the boys' team are captain Chris Guo, Sung Hong, and Bobby Verasingh. The two best players of the girls' team are captain-Irene Tu and Kieu Lien.

Another Intense Season

By Bettey Herrera

This years girls swim team experienced another intense year of workouts. If it wasn't weights they were lifting then it was 6:00 a.m. practices in the pool. One thing that always remained in their mind and not to mention their hair was the incredible stench of chlorine. But either way these girls were determined to give it their all. This year the girls captain was the impressive swimmer, Vickie Gocke. She managed to lead the girls through another good season.

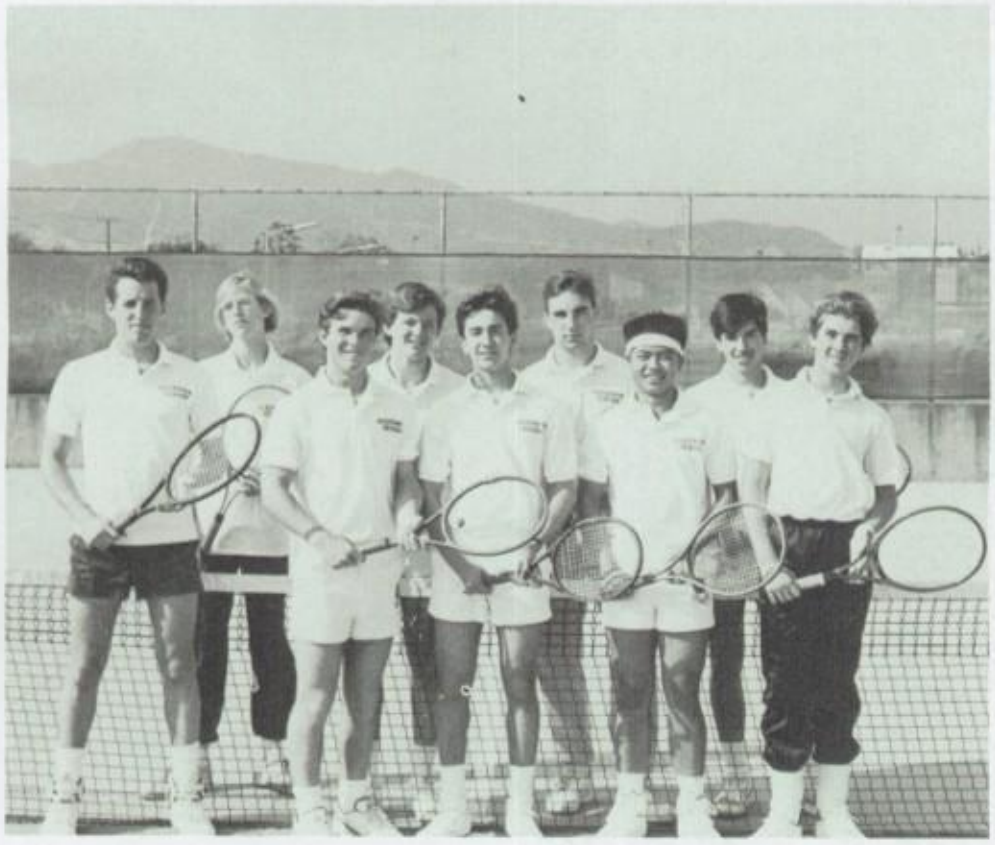
Boys Tennis Aims For C.I.F.



By Mike Fong

The Glendale High boys tennis team had one of the most impressive years in a long time. The team was lead by varsity players such as Richard McWhorter, Mike McHale, Allen Yap, Todd Fabian, Martin Escos, and John Waldron. The team has every returning starter from last year plus their top three players: McHale, McWhorter, and Escos. The team is looking forward to a Pacific League Championship and then a good position in the C.I.F. Playoffs. Thus far the team is 2-0 in league, with impressive routs over Hoover and Arcadia. Coach Keith is returning as Varsity coach this year. The tennis team reports to the courts every day at 2:15 for practice. There they begin by participating in various drills and challenge matches to determine line-ups for matches. This year the competition has been extremely vigorous. The team hopes for a championship this year!

J.V. boys tennis team once again has continued to dominate the league. They had a winning season this year coming out on top. They can be seen every day from 2:30 to 4:00 P.M. practicing to improve their game. They have beaten such rivals as Hoover, Crescenta Valley, Arcadia, and Muir. They have proven once again that the Nitros have what it takes to be a power house in the league. The team was coached by the very experienced Bob Davidson. They were led by Bundy Taylor, Tom Reynolds, Geoff Squib, Matt Mickas, Juan Jose, and many other talented players. The team hopes to endeavor to the CIF championships and bring home another title.

The Varsity Volleyball team of 87 is a young one with only three returning players: Tyler Bates, team captain and setter; Kwan Cho, outside hitter; Vaheh Assatorian, middle blocker. The new comers to the Varsity are Brent Hoxie, Chad Blatchley, Gil Brenner, and Mark Bierman. The team plays in the Central League with highly competitive teams like: Arcadia, South Pasadena, and the 3A-C.I.F. champion, Loyola. The team has the potential to be very good and is likely to beat many teams unexpectedly. But Varsity coach, Jack Trotter, feels that this year's squad is a rebuilding one and is expected to be really strong next year.

The J.V. volleyball team was led by one of the great Varsity players of 85, coach Rasmik Ignacian. According to coach Trotter, Rasmik works the players really hard and does a great job in technique and fundamentals. The J.V. team is very young with three returning players. One of them, sophomore Rick Calister, has the ability to play varsity, but coach Trotter feels that he'd get more playing time at the J.V. level. The other returning players are Chris Soderlund and Trent Parkin. Both of them are returning as middle blockers. Even though the team is fairly young, they have a great deal of talent.

One word sums up the Glendale Golf team, and that word is young. The eight player team consists of only one senior and one junior and the rest are sophomores and freshmen. The team lacks experience, but coach Butler hopes the strength of the three returning men will provide support for the other players. Returning to this year's team is the much talked about golfer, Steve Lee. Steve is only a sophomore, but he proved last year to be an outstanding golfer as well as a dresser by being placed on the All League 2nd Team. The golf team's #2 player is the great John Faieta. John is the senior of the golf team and is often considered the team's leader. His consistency as a player displays his dedication and true love for the game. The other returner from last year is Brad Roe. Brad is the junior of the team and is noted for his hard work and courageous effort to win. The remaining players of the team are all first year members: Robert Francis, Erich Howenstein, Pat Karstrom, Mark Horton, and the great Jason Hamer. Although the team is extremely young, the talent of the players creates a very strong golf team.

Var Baseball Drops "Rut"

By: Amy Chu

Under the leadership of head Coach, Dave Johnson, and Assistant Coach, Spirrow Psaltis, the Varsity Baseball Team was on its way to a winning season. The expertise of the nine returning players (three of whom are pitchers) was a great help to the strength of the team. The Varsity Team's goal for this year was to recover from last year's disappointing season and change the "mediocre season" rut that the Glendale High Baseball Team has been so caught up in for the past decade. With plenty of determination and hard work behind the team, this year's Varsity Baseball Players were ready to take on anybody and were prepared to change the awful rut they were in.

JV Baseball Players Are Looking Good!

By Amy Chu

The 1987 Junior Varsity Baseball Team, under the leadership of Coach Chris Avelgard, will be a great success. Nobody expects the Junior Varsity Team to win every single game and tournament they engage in, but with all the players' hard work everyday during sixth period and after school, it will be hard for any team to defeat these strong and determined players. The two returning players, Joey Bonticelli and Ian Summerville, will be a tremendous help for the team because of their experience from the year before. This year's Junior Varsity Team is heading towards excellence and plans to be the best that they can be. From the looks of the players, the 1987 Junior Varsity Baseball Team will have a great season. Good luck Boys!

This year's Varsity Girls Softball Team which consisted of Linda Ferree, Bobbi Weigel, Debbie Horton, Angela Armendariz, Christiane Armendariz, Kasie Romero, Patty Castillo, Debbie Allen, Rachel Duron, Kathy Hines, and last but not least, Lisa Perry is looking forward to a shining and rewarding season. Practicing hard everyday after school and during sixth period under the guidance of their coach, Mr. Hollingsworth, has certainly got to pay off. The Softball Team also joined with Swan Frozen Yogurt in Fund-Raising Activities in order to build a much better Softball Program in Glendale High School. These girls are going to be GREAT!

J.V. Softball Is On Their Way

By: Amy Chu

The 1987 Junior Varsity Girl's Softball Team is expected to be a tremendously great team. This team was off to a great start with the tournaments, and it should be able to have a very successful season. Under the leadership of their coach, Mr. Hollingsworth, the Junior Varsity Team is looking forward to a great and rewarding season. B.B. Borquez, Jill Telford, Tanya McRobie, Eleni Pentheroudakis, Nasty Betloach, Jeanz Mulcahey, Heather McConnell, Sharick Walls, Caroline Delgado, Ronda Brown, Kris Karaz are the talented girls that make up this years wonderful team. Hope you had fun Girls!

Upper Page: Smiles, Girls, Smiles! The so talented Junior Varsity Softball players sure have something to smile about. They were off to a great start and season with the third place they took in the Glendale Softball Tournament.

Above: Get away Mr. Photographer! Why are you taking a picture of me now? Can't you wait until I'm ready and beautiful? It'll only take me a couple of seconds or so!

Those Were The Days . . .

Upper Left During Mrs. Bristers teen years, she was involved in sports events as well as musical activities. In this photograph, Mrs. Rebecca Brister is seen in her cheerleading uniform.

Mr. Dryden poses for the camera as a sophomore jock from Glendale High. As a teenager, he, like most young men his age, enjoyed to date and dance. But one thing he especially enjoyed doing was to participate in sport activities.

Who are these people, and why are they pictured? What would be the teacher's characteristic in order to qualify? Well, that is for you students to figure out!

Angels???-Student's choice!

by Angelique Encarnacion

Taken on a wide survey, these faculty members are the most beloved in our school. Now, this is the chance that any student has been waiting for - to pick which one is his favorite and the reasons why. WHICH ONES ARE THE ANGELS???

When teachers are strict, students learn to have self-discipline. However, some students take it from a different point of view. Being truant and having excessive tardies makes the teachers realize that the particular student has a disease called the "STUDENT'S SYNDROME." The student-teacher relationship usually works vice-versa. If the student does his responsibilities, then the teacher will give the student the grade he/she deserves. Teachers are different inside and outside class. First, they try to get or earn the student's respect and trust in order to have communication. A teacher can be your friend if you just give them a chance. If they do show strictness and give hard work, it is only to help students improve their disciplinary actions for future purposes.

Who says that teachers are serious all the time? Once in a while they also want to get away from the youthful crowd or on the other hand join the "spazy" crowd of Glendale High School! Believe it or not, teachers gossip about their students too. TEACHERS ARE PEOPLE TOO!

What do teachers do on their typical weekend? Don't you even wonder? Like any human being, teachers also have some sports and hobbies such as skiing, swimming, golfing, running, biking, shopping, listening to music, etc. For those students who watch soap operas, YOU ARE NOT ALONE! You will be surprised to know that quite a few teachers even tape their favorite daytime soap operas.

Teachers Are People Too . . .

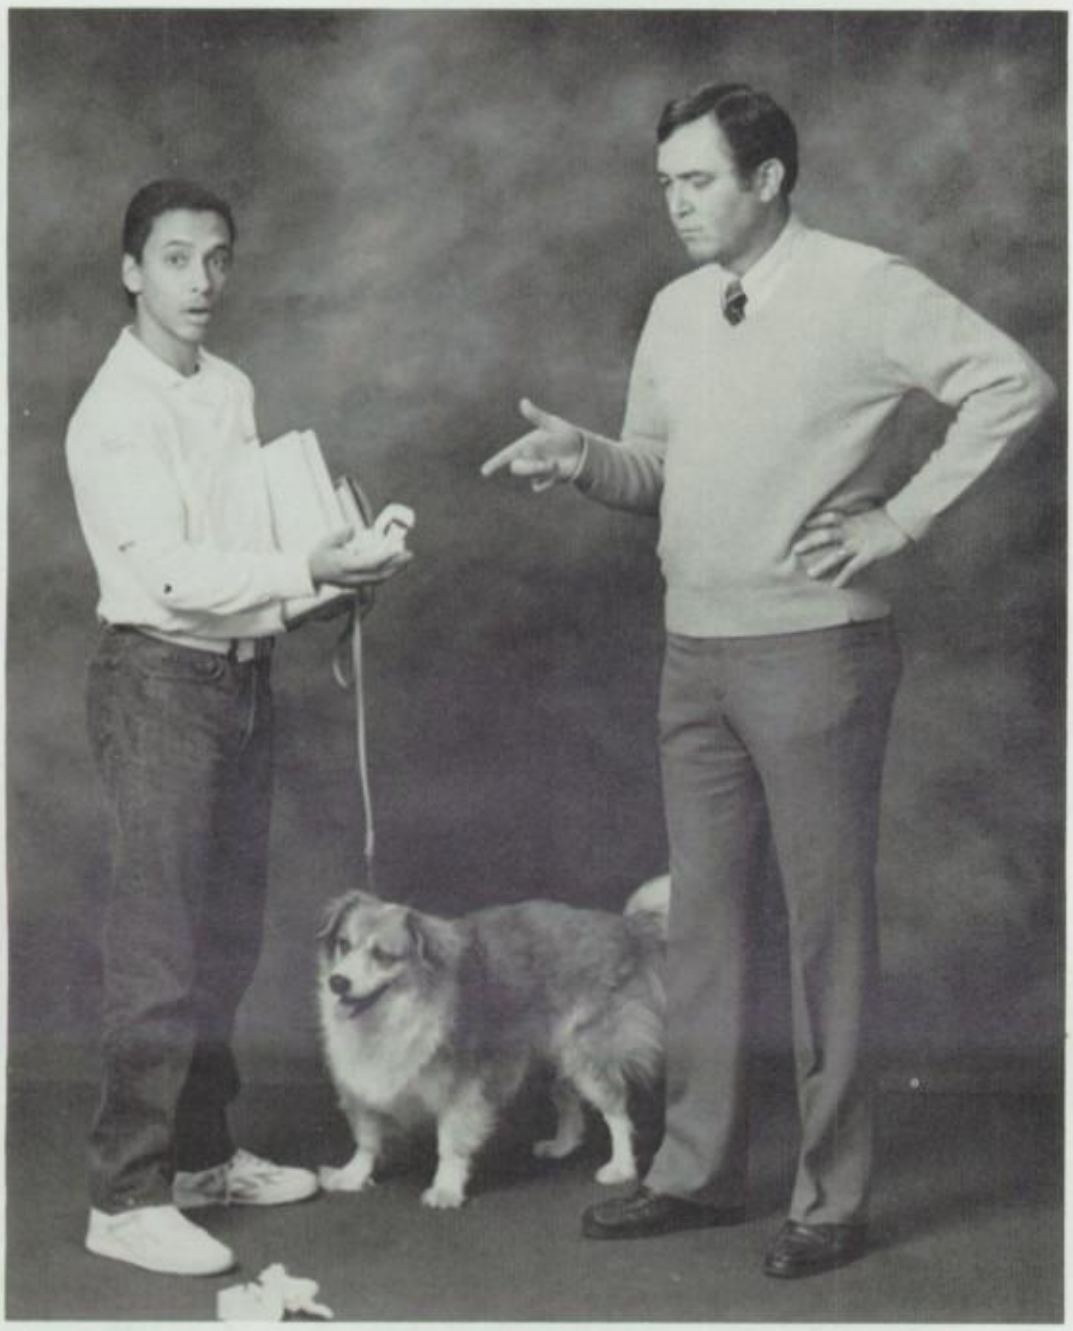
Excuses . . .



Excuses, Excuses, Excuses A teachers life is full of hearing excuses from students, trying to get out of getting into trouble. Whether the excuse is true or not is irrelevant. What matters is if you get away with it. Over the years teachers have heard a lot of good ones.

BEST EXCUSES FOR NOT HAVING HOMEWORK

1. My dog ate it.
2. My dad and mom made me go.
3. My mother typed it for me, and it's still in her typewriter.
4. Our house burned down yesterday.
5. We're moving, and it got packed.

By Vickie Atikian

It's 6:30 on a Thursday night. You get yourself a Pepsi, sit at the dining room table, and get ready to start writing your English comp. The phone rings. You answer it, and it turns out to be your best friend. You start talking and by the time you finish it's 8:00. You put off doing your homework to watch the "Cosby Show", and the shows following that. You end up not starting your homework until 10:00 p.m. You almost take out your books again, but you decide you're too tired, so you go to sleep and plan to get up early to write your paper.

It's morning now. The alarm goes off and you need another five minutes of sleep so you put on the snooze. When you finally get up it's 7:30, too late. You have to be at school at 8:00 a.m. and you still need to shower, eat and get dressed. You go to your first period class and your teacher says, "Hand in your comps. class." She's coming down your row picking each one up. She gets to you and asks, "Where is your comp?" Your heart starts beating quicker, you break out in a sweat and say, "I don't have it!" "Why??" "Well I'm waiting," says the teacher. And in a desperate urge you say, "THE DOG ATE IT!!!"

Excuses . . .

BEST EXCUSES FOR BEING LATE TO CLASS

1. I had to hide in the bathroom, so my boyfriend wouldn't see me.
2. My alarm didn't ring.
3. My car got stolen.
4. I didn't hear the bell ring.
5. I had a car accident.

By Vickie Atikian

It's a Monday morning. You and a good friend of yours are walking down the ramp at school after second period. You're telling her about your weekend. You tell her how you and your boyfriend got into another fight over some stupid thing. You explain how you never want to talk to him or see him ever again, and that you'll never get back together with him. Then your boyfriend's best friend comes up to you and says hay, "Your boyfriends looking for you!" You say I don't have a boyfriend." You turn away and you see your boyfriend coming towards you. You run into the bathroom. It's almost the end of snack and you're still in there waiting for him to leave. You know you can't be late to third period again. There is nothing you can do, he's standing right outside the bathroom, looking for you. It's been a while now and you're already ten minutes late. He finally gives up looking for you. You get yourself together and start walking to class. You walk into the room and walk up to the teacher. She asks you, "Why are you late?" Instead of making up some excuse you decide to tell her the truth. She looks at you like Yeah, right! — and gives you Saturday detention. That's what you get for telling the truth.

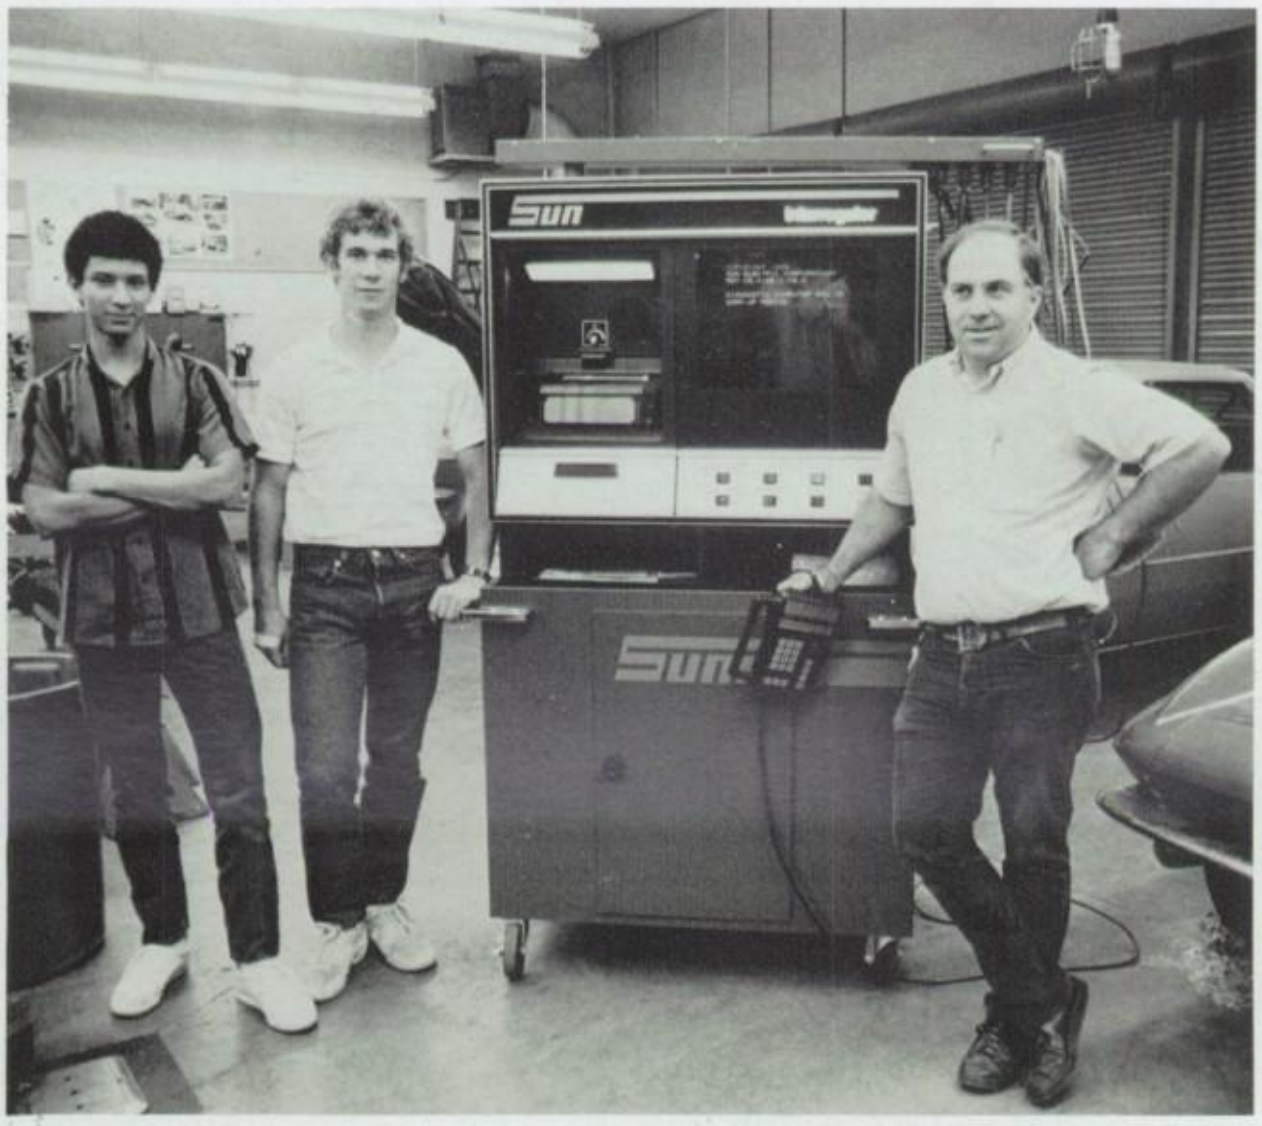
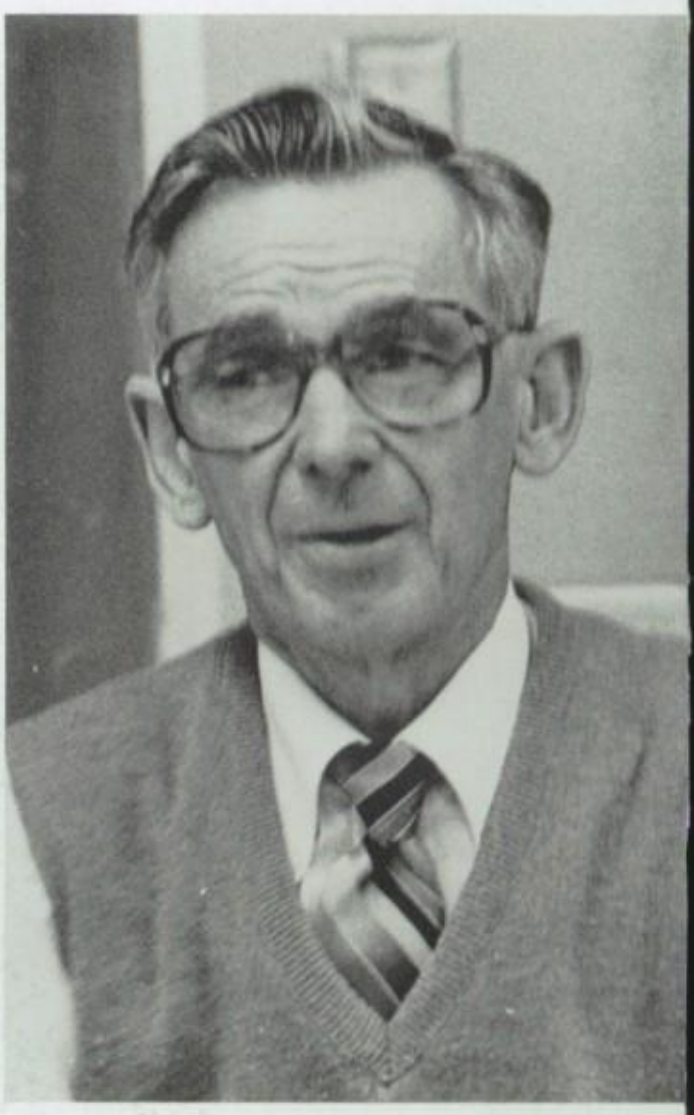
News Flash!!!





WHAT IS THIS THING? Well, Mr. Champlin and his accomplices Henry Sierra and Kelly Hazen, proceeded to explain to us the role that this machine plays in Auto Shop but we're convinced that its something else! Yes, we believe that they plan to destroy the entire lot that Glendale High stands on! Anyone can tell that isn't a normal machine. And with people like Kelly and Henry and of course Mr. Champlin, you know something is definitely up. But what can we do to prevent this devastating thing to continue?? Someone must do something about this incident!!! We must tell someone about what is happening!!! I must tell the President of the USA. I must tell ... I ... help!!! help ... hel ... p ... what's going on?!? What's going on?!?!!! Oh my gosh someone help me!!!

> This station will go into a brief intermission. And we're ... sorry to say that reporter, Tamar Igoyan has had a little accident. And she will no longer be at this station ...

Today, January 15, 1987 marks the 169 day that we've hunted the grounds of Glendale High School for one important man. And that man is no other than the well known Physics teacher, Errol Lochead. Yes, the Stylus staff searched up and down the rough terrain of G.H.S. for a little photograph. But since he refused all of our acknowledgements, we have now placed an all day search for this man. So if you have any information about his wherabouts, please contact the closest stylus office at 1-800-mugshot. Because we want our man!!! And we won't stop until we find him! So if you're out there Mr. Lochead, We got you!!!

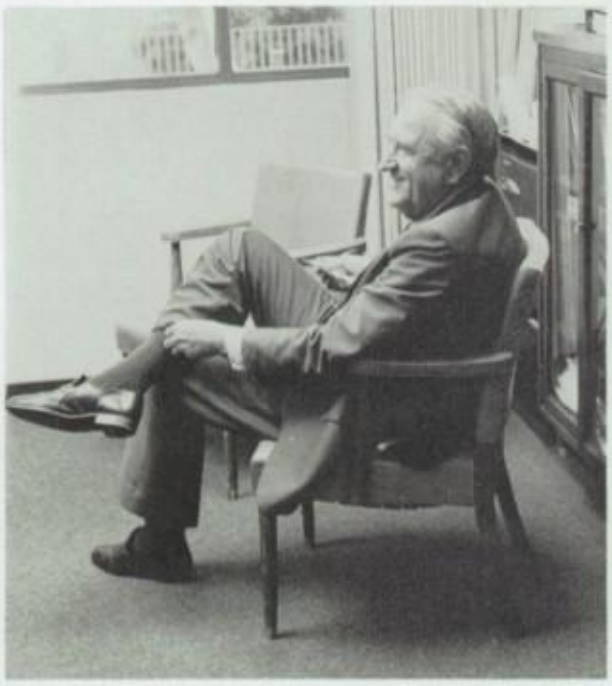
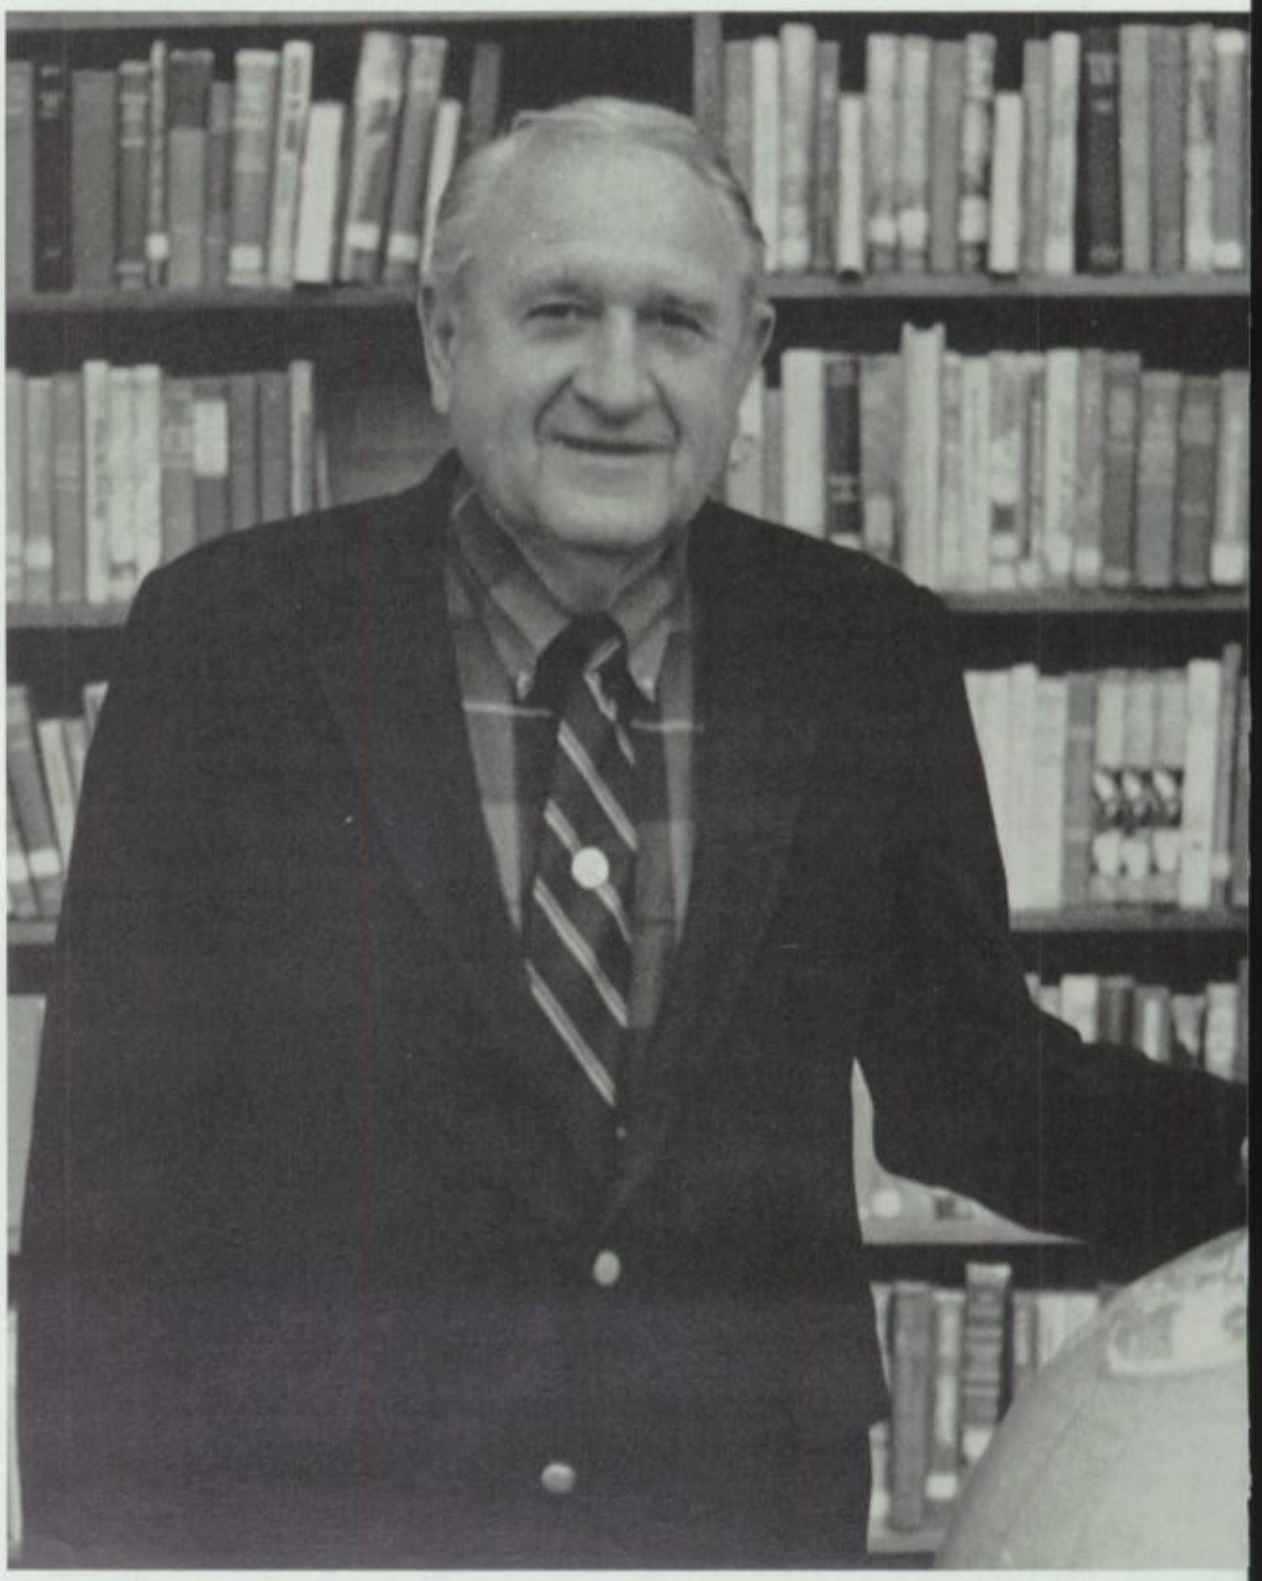
Administration:



No better time than the present; Mr. Harvey takes a break.

By the way, did you hear the one about the Long Island duck? Mr. Harvey socializes with Mark Bierman.

No better company than your own; Mr. Harvey takes a stroll on campus.



By Betty Herrera

Samuel S. Harvey is by any doubt the Principal of Glendale High School. But along with being the Principal, he also means a great deal more to the GHS campus. Just in case you haven't noticed, Mr. Harvey is that incredible individual who walks around campus asking you if you're going to the latest game. Or maybe he'll ask about your day. But whatever the topic may be you know Mr. Harvey is out there asking you about something. And why does he do it??? He could always be in a nice office eating his lunch. But instead he's roaming the GHS campus wondering how you are.

And there isn't anyone at our school who has more spirit than Mr. Harvey. There hasn't been a day in which he hasn't worn black and red on a day of a game. And for all his attention and enormous capacity for understanding we all love him!!!

"Each year that passes becomes a memory of the past. I hope that the 1987 school year has been filled with many pleasant memories and that they will remain with you forever.

The Stylus will help you remember your involvement in the many activities on campus and of the friendships that were formed.

My hope is that you will be able to attain your goals in life and that you will be a contributing member of society. Good luck to each one of you in the years ahead."

Counselors:

Help! Help! Help! Do I have enough credits? Can I Graduate? Can you get me out of Trig.? If you haven't guessed it already, our counselors are probably the most sought after members of Glendale High; but where can you find one when you need one? No one ever know. Are they on a coffee break? Out to lunch? Not here yet? Tinkering on the verge of insanity, Stacie Ditta ponders over these thoughts as she patiently waits for her counselor.

Have you ever experienced being called during class time? You don't know if you're in trouble from Mr. Wild or from the attendance office. You get the weirdest feeling and say, "THIS IS IT - I FINALLY GOT CAUGHT! What am I going to do? You have that guilty look on your face. On the other hand it could be good news, maybe an award or a scholarship. Nevertheless, you will never be sure unless you find out yourself.

There are times when your schedule is all mixed up and you have to stay in line for counseling appointment. The worse part of all is when you wait in line then suddenly they close the door, telling you to come in TOMORROW. What a frustration!

No one knows how much cafeteria workers & custodians dedicate themselves to GHS. Whenever Explosion staff pass out newspapers, who cleans up the mess? Or whenever we are dying of starvation, who do we turn to? They are our everyday heroes that we don't even realize. The cafeteria sends food to 6 elementary schools and Board of Education - at least 2100 to 2200 lunches. GHS serves 350 or more grilled cheese and many other ala carte items.

Everyone loves the famous "Glendale twist" sweet roll and coffee cake which are served once or twice a week. 14 employees do all the work - cooking, baking, salads, sandwiches. How can they do all this work and still give us that lovely smile!

What Does It All Mean?

By Angelique Encarnacion

Most of our lives, we always seem to think that we are old enough to make our own decisions. We always think we are doing the right thing and yet at the end we make the same mistake-sometimes even twice. Making a mistake is not a big boboo — you are only human, nobody's perfect. There is no explanation for all the actions we do, except that we do learn from experience. Each one of the stages will help us distinguish the happiest and worse times of our life. The circular flow of life is very complicated. What does really motivate an individual? What are the categories for each stage?

When we were kids, we always feel secure and safe because our parents were always there for us. Sometimes we wish we don't have to grow up anymore. But there are also advantages too when you get older. You take more responsibilities now and you are stressed more!!! Then finally the day that you've been waiting for, for almost 18 years-GRADUATION! Memories will never be forgotten. You learn to be more independent and be able to define the true meaning of life. However, this does not mean that we cannot make mistakes anymore. In each one of us, there will be always a child within us. Adults can also learn from kids. What makes a person mature? Soon we will be making serious decisions that would affect our future. These are just parts of the game of life.

Who Are The Most Spontaneous People Around?

The Wild And Crazy Faculty Members At GHS.

Q. If anyone follows the '87 yearbook theme, Dare to be Different, it is definitely one of GHS' faculty members. But who is this person who is willing to do anything just to stand out?

A. Mr. Griffiths (Doc). Yes, he overlooked the thought of ridicule by his peers and did something most of us would never dream of doing. Mr. Griffiths shaved his head in college so that we would be different to everyone else. Of course, Mr. Griffiths attended college in a time which long hair was the thing to have. But Doc was willing to be different!!!

Q. If you had the opportunity to go to a party wouldn't you take up this offer? What if this was the night before your SAT exams? Well you'd probably then put a great deal of thought into this decision. And one of our teachers did think about this possibility and took the opportunity to go. But who was it???

A. Mr. Van Brennen actually went to a party the night before his exam. Well, how bad can that be? It can be devastating if you fall asleep throughout the whole test. And that's exactly what happened to Mr. Van Brennen. Who would believe that our own teachers are wild and spontaneous people.

Q. Pranks!!! That word always brings one name to mind. He's the type of person who most likely drove his parents crazy with worry. In fact we can see a little of ourselves in him. But who can that be???

A. Mr. Garberson! Pranks!!! For some reason that word comes to mind when ever the name Garberson is said. But what did he do to gain this reputation of wild weekends and parties. Well, as part of someone's initiation to a college fraternity, Mr. Garberson and friends placed a pledge in a crate. But before he was sent off to New York, they were kind enough to leave a dime for a phone call. And off to New York he was sent. And to their amazement, the pledge was not seen for a few weeks. Isn't that the classic movie scene??? Wow, college is something to look forward to!!!

Q. And on the topic of colleges, one of our faculty members described his own initiation to a fraternity. But who is brave enough to describe their own initiation???

A. Mr. Dryden. He attended the University of Redlands. For his pledge to the frat, he was placed in a potato sack while being in his birthday suit. Now this might not be so bad if thats all there was to it. But as you and I know there was definitely more. Mr. Dryden was made to sit on a block of ice. But the worse part of it was the fact that the the sack had a hole underneath it. And as Mr. Dryden sat on the block of ice, things suddenly became very very very cold! Good going Mr. Dryden!!!

As The World Turns . . .

Hello Rich! You know that student in my 3rd period class... Mary Green? Well, she's dating Tom Summers. Can you believe that!?!
Really! I thought she was going steady with Mike... Mike Smith in my 0 period class. Who by the way is never awake!
Oh No! She told me the sad truth about their relationship. And its definitely over... Thank goodness!!!
I just thought of something! We sound like two gossiping teenagers! In fact we sound like Kevin and Sally!
Kevin and Sally?!? I don't remember hearing anything about them!
Oh! I wasn't aware that you didn't know! Well, let me tell you... Kevin said that if...

The Glendale High School Choral Department enjoyed another busy and rewarding year under the direction of Rebecca Brister. The Girl's Concert Gee and the Acappella Choir were selected by audition to participate in Walt Disney's 1,000 voice Christmas Candlelight Ceremony. Also in December, the Southern California Chamber Choir Competition held in Newport Beach. This was their first year to enter. "UNCONCERT '87" was entitled R.O.C.K. in the U.S.A." and featured music from the 1940's up to the 1980's. The Acappella and Chamber Choirs sang and danced to a packed house. The Bell Choir performed in the First Annual Handbell Festival held in Long Beach. All of the groups participated in and ranked highly in many Spring Festivals. The Girl's Glee and Acappella Choirs were selected Bicentennial Celebration of our U.S. Constitution to an especially distinguished audience. The Acapella, Chamber, and Bell Choir toured San Francisco in May and participated in the 50th Anniversary of the Golden Gate Bridge. The groups performed for the end-of-the-year activities- Graduation, Baccalaureate- and rounded out a successful choral year. The groups drew record numbers to our beautiful auditorium for both the Christmas program and the spectacular "Unconcert". Thank you, Choirs, for all of your hard work and fine representation of our school.

Editor's Note

By Betty Herrera

"I need that by . . .", "Dont forget to make an appointment for. . .", "Be more creative!!!", As I look back it appears I said these words over and over again. And maybe it seems I expected too much of these 21 people. But I did expect a great deal from them because I new they could handle it. And as can be seen here they did a great job: And the following is a letter to the people who at times I hated and loved!

Dear Stylus Staff:

Well, this is it! This is what you created! And as far as I'm concerned, you did the best job ever done on a yearbook staff. First I'd like to thank the best and most important people on the staff, the photographers! Eric, thank you for doing all those last minute assignments. Kenji, You're an excellent photographer. Good luck in your future! Todd, Where's your camera??? J/K. Thanks for all your help. David, get out of the picture!!! Doc, Well, I survived!!! At times I thought I wasn't but it finally happened!! Thanks for always supporting my decisions. Alicia, "She tries to capture the soul of an individual not the exterior . . ." Thank you for all your creativity and your friendship!!! Tom, you're definately the most diligent worker I've seen. Thanks a million for all you work!!!! Amy C., things get really strange after 4:00 don't they??? "Come spirits I can feel you . . ." Beth, thanks for all the work you put in! Alex, how's Mr. Wild??? John, what else can I say but you're a stud!!! Thanx for the superb layout! Gina, what beautiful green eyes! Thanks for being both a great worker and friend. Good luck you bruin person!! Susan, thanks for putting up with me. You'd probably kill me if I'd ask you to call Dunlap one more time. Thanx for all your work! Mike, good luck in your senior year. Tamer, I can sympathize with you. Stress!!! Believe me you'll get to know the true meaning of stress. Vickie remember the good the bad and the ugly!!! ha ha.' Angelique, thanks for all your help and I don't mean only with yearbook. Artine, thank you for all the great help! Hey do you like my Sweats??? Amy J., "Yes I will pay the school for $40 of Toilet paper . . ." Sabrina, three months later ha ha . . J/K. Jenny $40 of toilet paper and you had to t.p. the house twice??? Thanxs for everything. By the way what is a yearbook??? It's a se . . ., ha ha!!! Good luck in your senior year.

And of course another special thank you goes to the incredible people of Dunlap Turney and the Jostens Representative, Paul Collins. And one more thought of gratitude goes to the creative bunch of Spanish 9-10. Thanx for all those ideas!!! And before I bring this to a close. I must thank the people who also had a great deal with the production of this book. My parents. They put up with late night typewriter noises, messy livingrooms, load radios, early morning kitchen noises, and so much more. "Thank you Mom and Dad for all your love and support!"

As I finally write this pages, I'm not sure whether to laugh or cry. It seems almost sad to see it all end. This was not an easy job by any means but it was something I am definitly proud of. Not only because of the many hours of work that were applied but also for the friendship that were established because of it. The yearbook also gave me the opportunity to create something that will remain at this school always. The school which gave me a great deal of fond memories and wonderful friends.

So in ending I'd like to once again mention the theme of the yearbook, DARE TO BE DIFFERENT Always keep this in mind because it does have an important meaning to it: Never try to be a copy of someone else. You're a great person the way you are and you shouldn't have to change for anyone. Because being different is being great!! So good luck to all at Glendale High and of course don't forget to keep the faith!

Betty Herrera

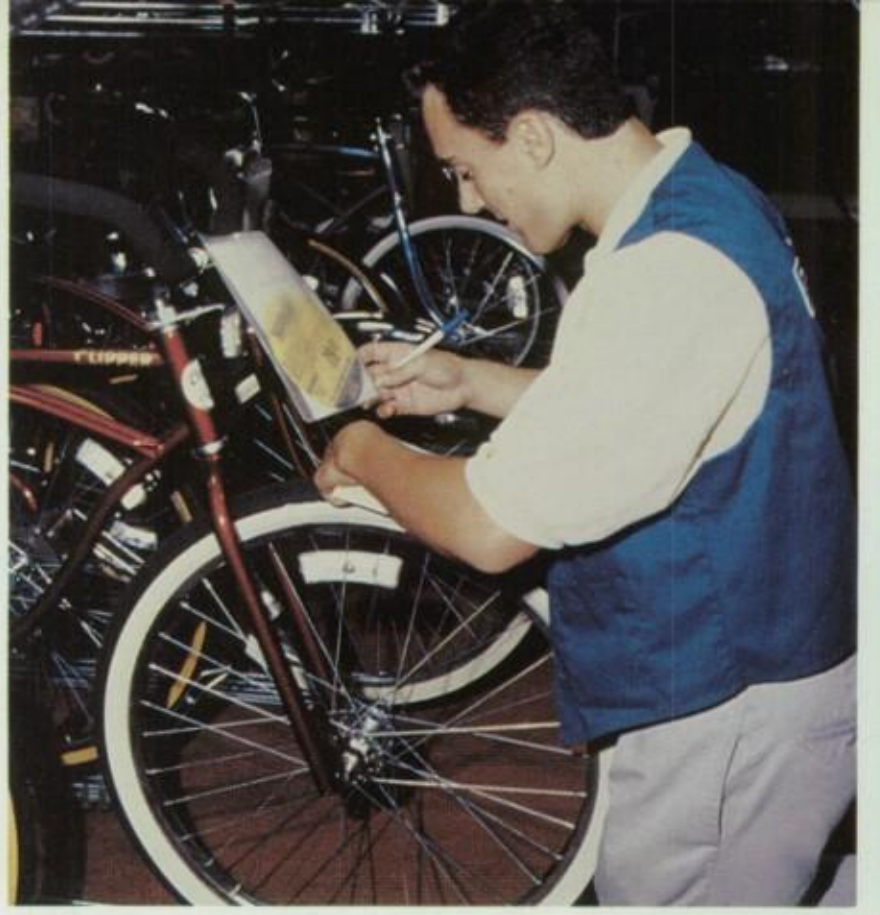
Dare to . . . Achieve

JOBS



By Amy Chu

I owe I owe so off to work I go!!! The most demanding and stressful situations may involve from your job. There may be more than one reason why you decided to get the job, but of course in the long run the major reason is money. A job enables you to have money without begging your parents for it. But best of all you recieve satisfaction from knowing that you earned it. But of course jobs have disadvantages. When the girl you've been dying to take out finally says yes, of course you have to work. Or maybe you want to buy a new stereo for your car. But when you recieve your paycheck you don't have enough money. But nothing can be compared with being the new guy at work. When everthing goes wrong, you really start to think why you got the job. But of course when you've decided to get a job block these assertions from your mind because after all you're doing it for the money.

above: These darn things are so expensive. Steve Wicker diligently examines all the prices.

right: Are you sure you want these?? Always hard at work, Ron Domingo helps a costumer in need.

above: I think I can, I think I can!!! Robert Conrad believes that every one in Glendale gets their food at Vons.

Studying

By Amy Chu

To study or not to study; that is the question. You ask yourself this everyday and you usually have a hard time choosing the right answer. There always seems to be something better to do than to study. So you end up procrastinating and doing other things instead of studying. The next morning you go to class unprepared, and find out that the teeny weeny little biology quiz has turned into a test that is worth one hundred points. Your teacher had planned it so that she could find out who was doing their homework and who was not. You know that if you would have studied for that quiz, you would have been able to do well on the test instead of getting the big "F"! There is no other way to go about it; one must study in order to achieve good grades. Because if you do not study, the question will turn into; to fail or not to fail. The decision is totally up to you. When you are asking yourself that question the next time you are in such a situation, hopefully you will pick the latter. For if you choose not to fail, you will have to study and work hard!

Left: What is this?! Taking time off in class to write a love letter to John is not advisable for it can be very, very harmful to your grade, not to mention your reputation! If you enjoy getting good grades, don't do it!

Practice Makes Perfect

By Amy Chu

At times practices can be tedious and time consuming, and you just feel like giving up. But then you start thinking of the end result of the long hours of practice and of what you could accomplish, you start working your buns off again. You've probably heard your coach or advisor say to you, "practice makes perfect". And it is so true. Practice is the one and only way that you are ever going to get any good results from what you are trying to do. Whether it is dealing with academics or with sports, practicing is an important factor of your accomplishments. Without this goals would be impossible to reach.

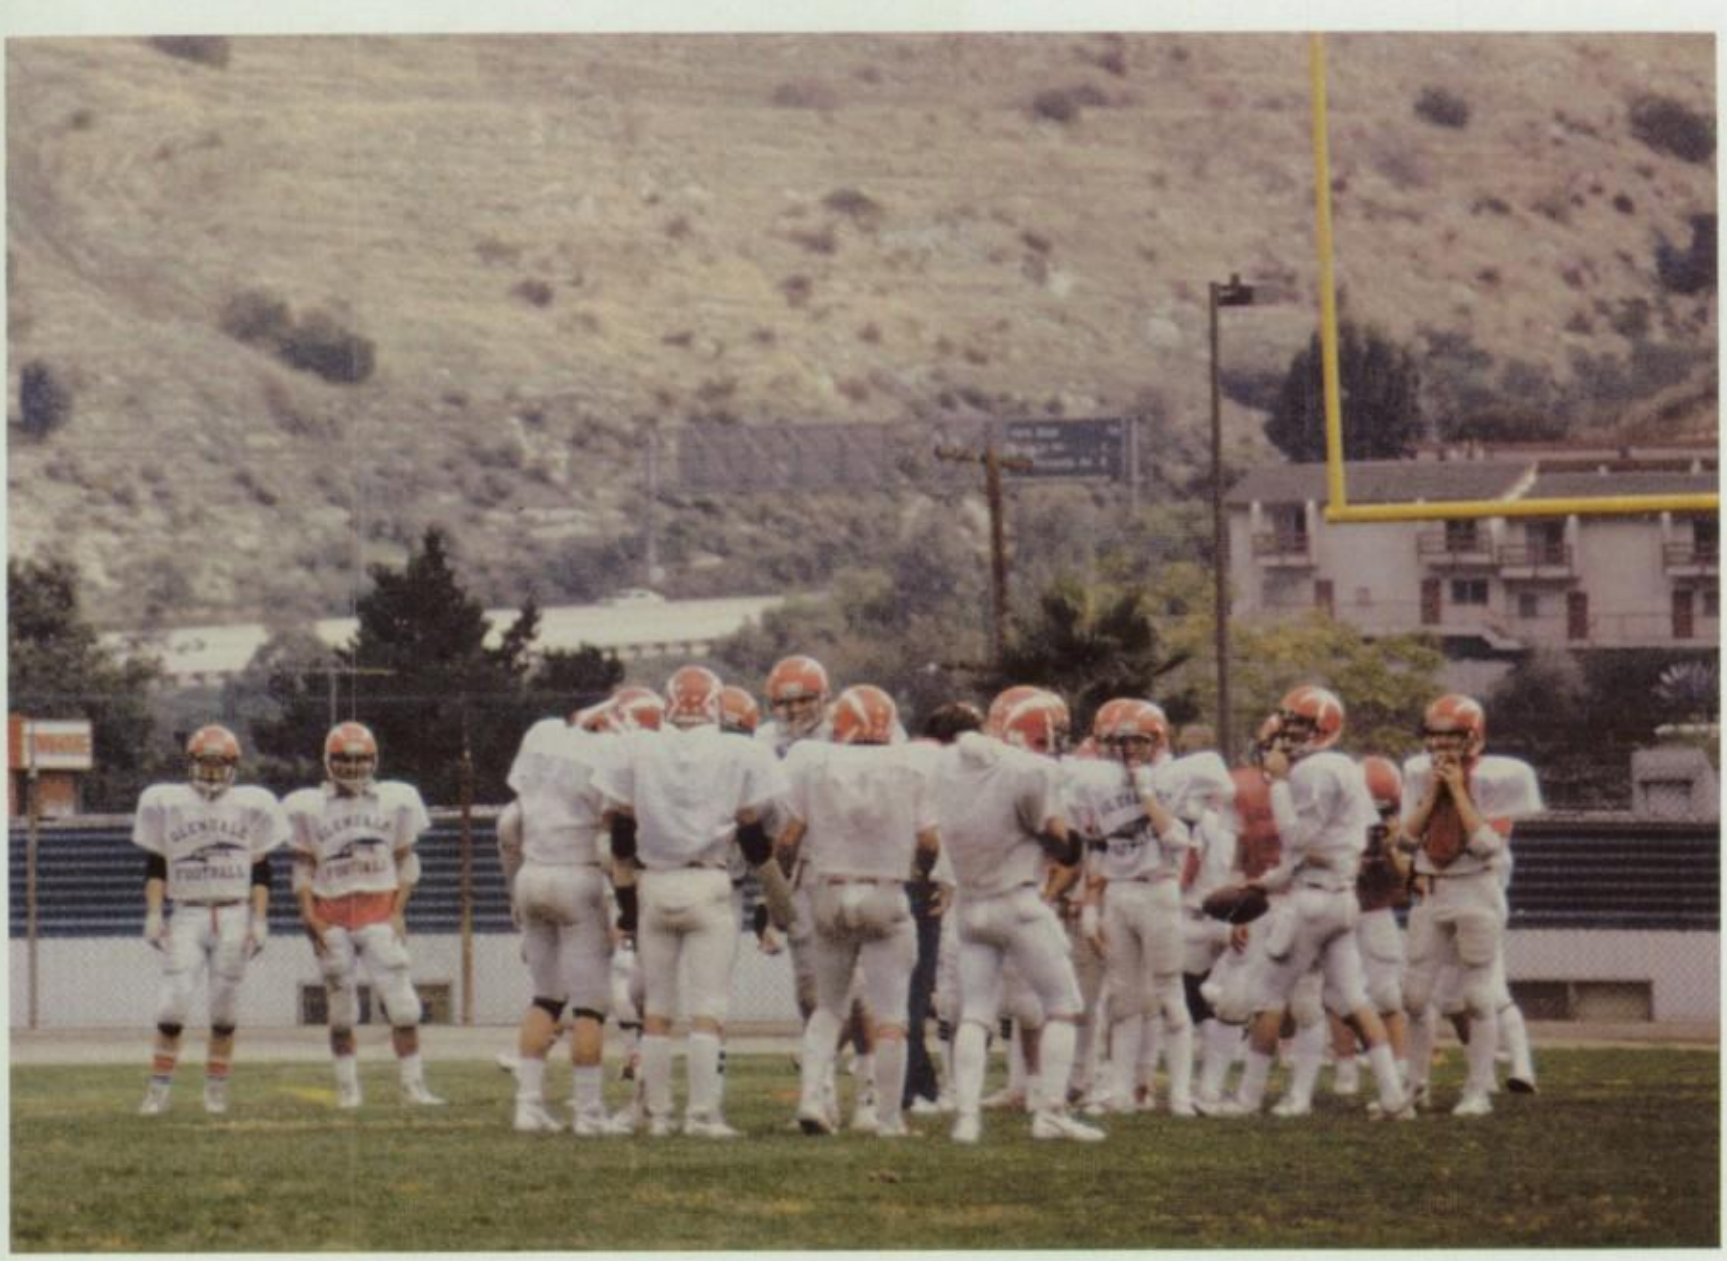
Right: Drill Team Attention! 1-2! After hours of practice, the members show signs of fatigue.

Above: Huff, Puff! Whew, what a workout! I can already feel the calories leave my body. Bottom Right: Inside the huddle of football players ... Come on guys, these are my Raider football cards ... let me see your Rams football cards!



What time is it?

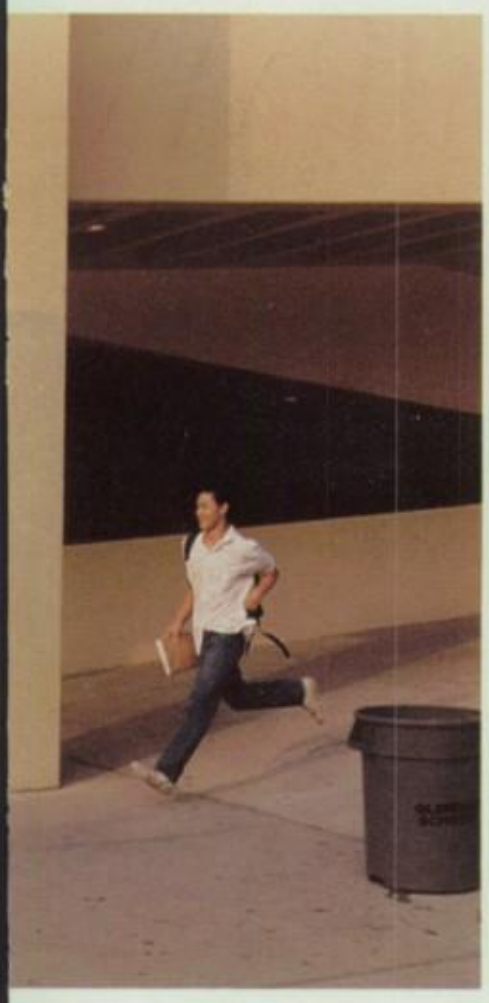
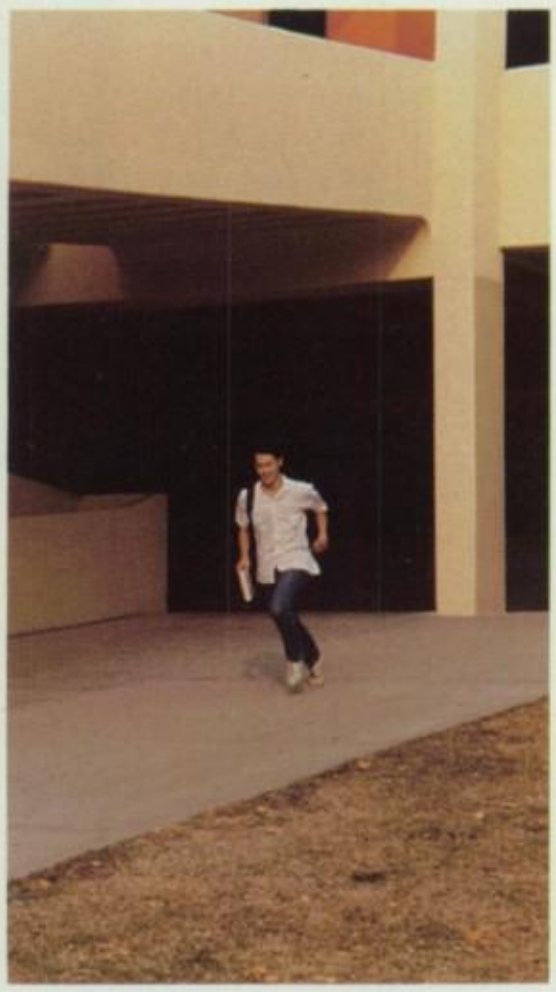
You thought you'd get a head start on your homework, so you started early. As time passes you look up at your clock, and find yourself unable to believe your eyes. So you end up running around the house, looking at every single clock, but you still aren't satisfied. As a result, you dial the number, "853-1212", and hear the operator say in her monotonous voice, "At the tone the time will be ... 3 a.m. and 30 seconds ... beep." Your mouth drops wide open and your hair stands on its ends. You turn into a total nervous reck. And you keep saying to yourself that it cannot be possible. You have barely started on your homework and it is already three a.m.? But it impossible. You have fallen into a trick of nature. You actually thought that you would have enough time to do every single one of your homework assignments? Ha! There is just never enough time to do anything. That's why you always end up rushing to whatever it is you have to do. But don't despair. We all have had this happen to us before. The only thing that we can do to avoid this tragedy is to learn to use our time better and to plan ahead. Next time, you'll be sleeping at three a.m. instead of pulling your hair out.

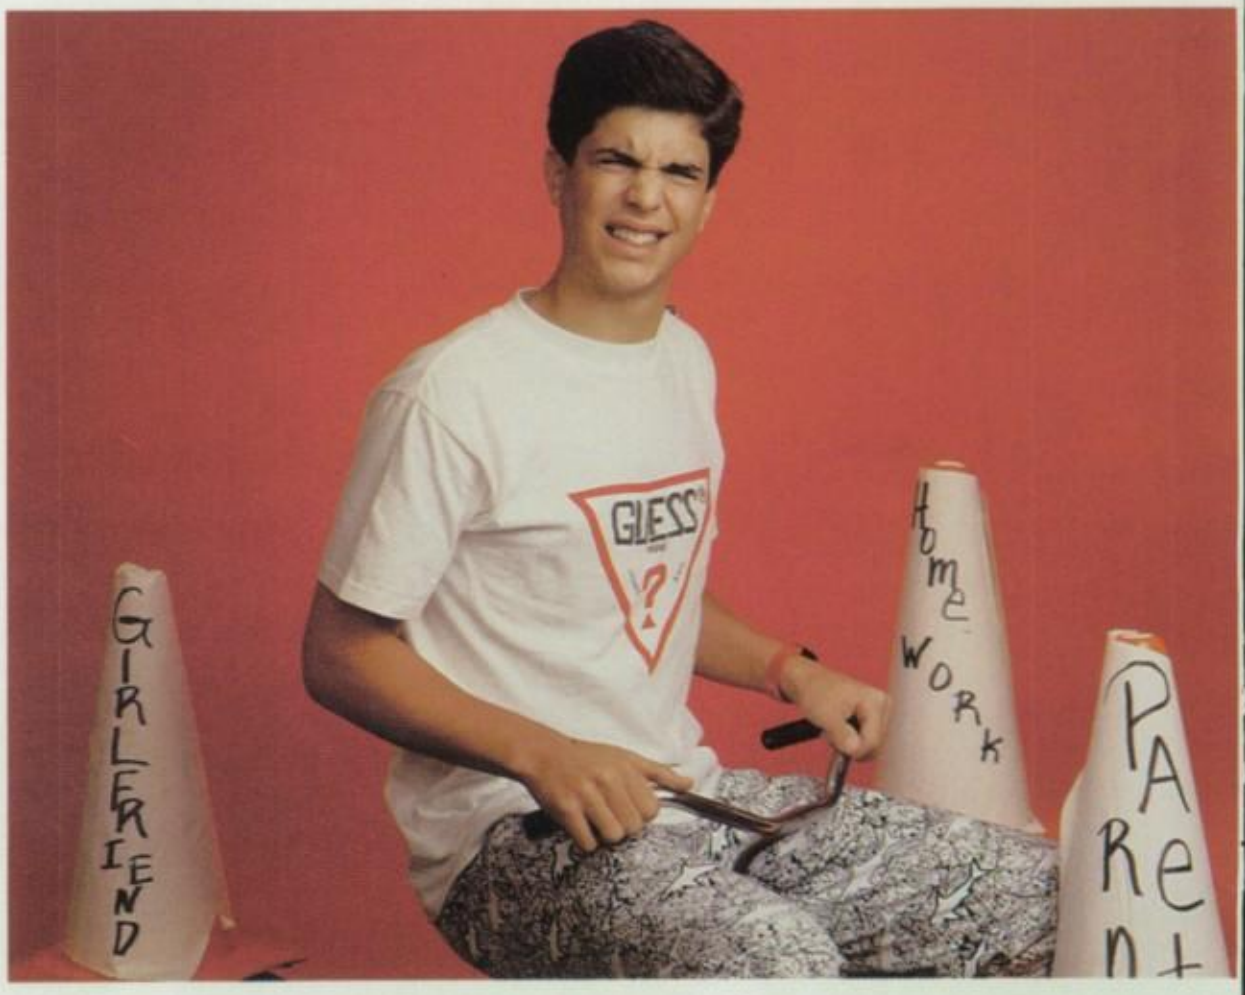




Obstacles

By Amy Chu

Everyday you're loaded down with tons and tons of homework. You find it useless to do because you say to yourself, "What am I going to use the knowledge of this subject for when I am going to become a big and famous movie star like Robert Redford?" Well, your parents and teachers think differently, so you end up doing the big load of homework anyway. But as you get started on your homework, you find yourself running into many, many obstacles that almost destroys your plans. Your girlfriend or boyfriend for one, never seems to have any homework, so she wants to spend all her time with you. It's a very nice thought but when you've got a composition due the next day, it's the kiss of death. So you try to explain to her that you really have to go home, but she does not believe you. So she starts whining, "you don't like me anymore. Please stay with me. Pleeeeease!" And like a fool in love, you stay. When you finally free yourself from the arms of your beloved, thinking that you'll be able to do your homework, your mother tells you to do your house chores. "But Mom!", You exclaim, but she doesn't seem to listen to reason. So you finish your chores and sit down at your desk with your book and notebook open, eager to get started on your assignments. But wait! What time is it? Oh no! It's already time for your favorite T.V. programs. Now all your homework is forgotten as you sit down and watch the Cosby Show and after that Family Ties, Cheers, Night Court, and to top it all off Hills Street Blues! Now you do not have enough time to do your homework because you need your beauty sleep. On well, I guess your homework is just going to have to wait until morning.



Above: !!!!!!! It causes such pain to avoid the obstacles of life!

Left: But Alex, you can't go! Alex Berry is attempting to free himself from the arms of Laura Diaz so that he could do his homework.

Bottom Left: Do your chores! As Mike Kim hears those words, all homework is forgotten.

A Time To Relax

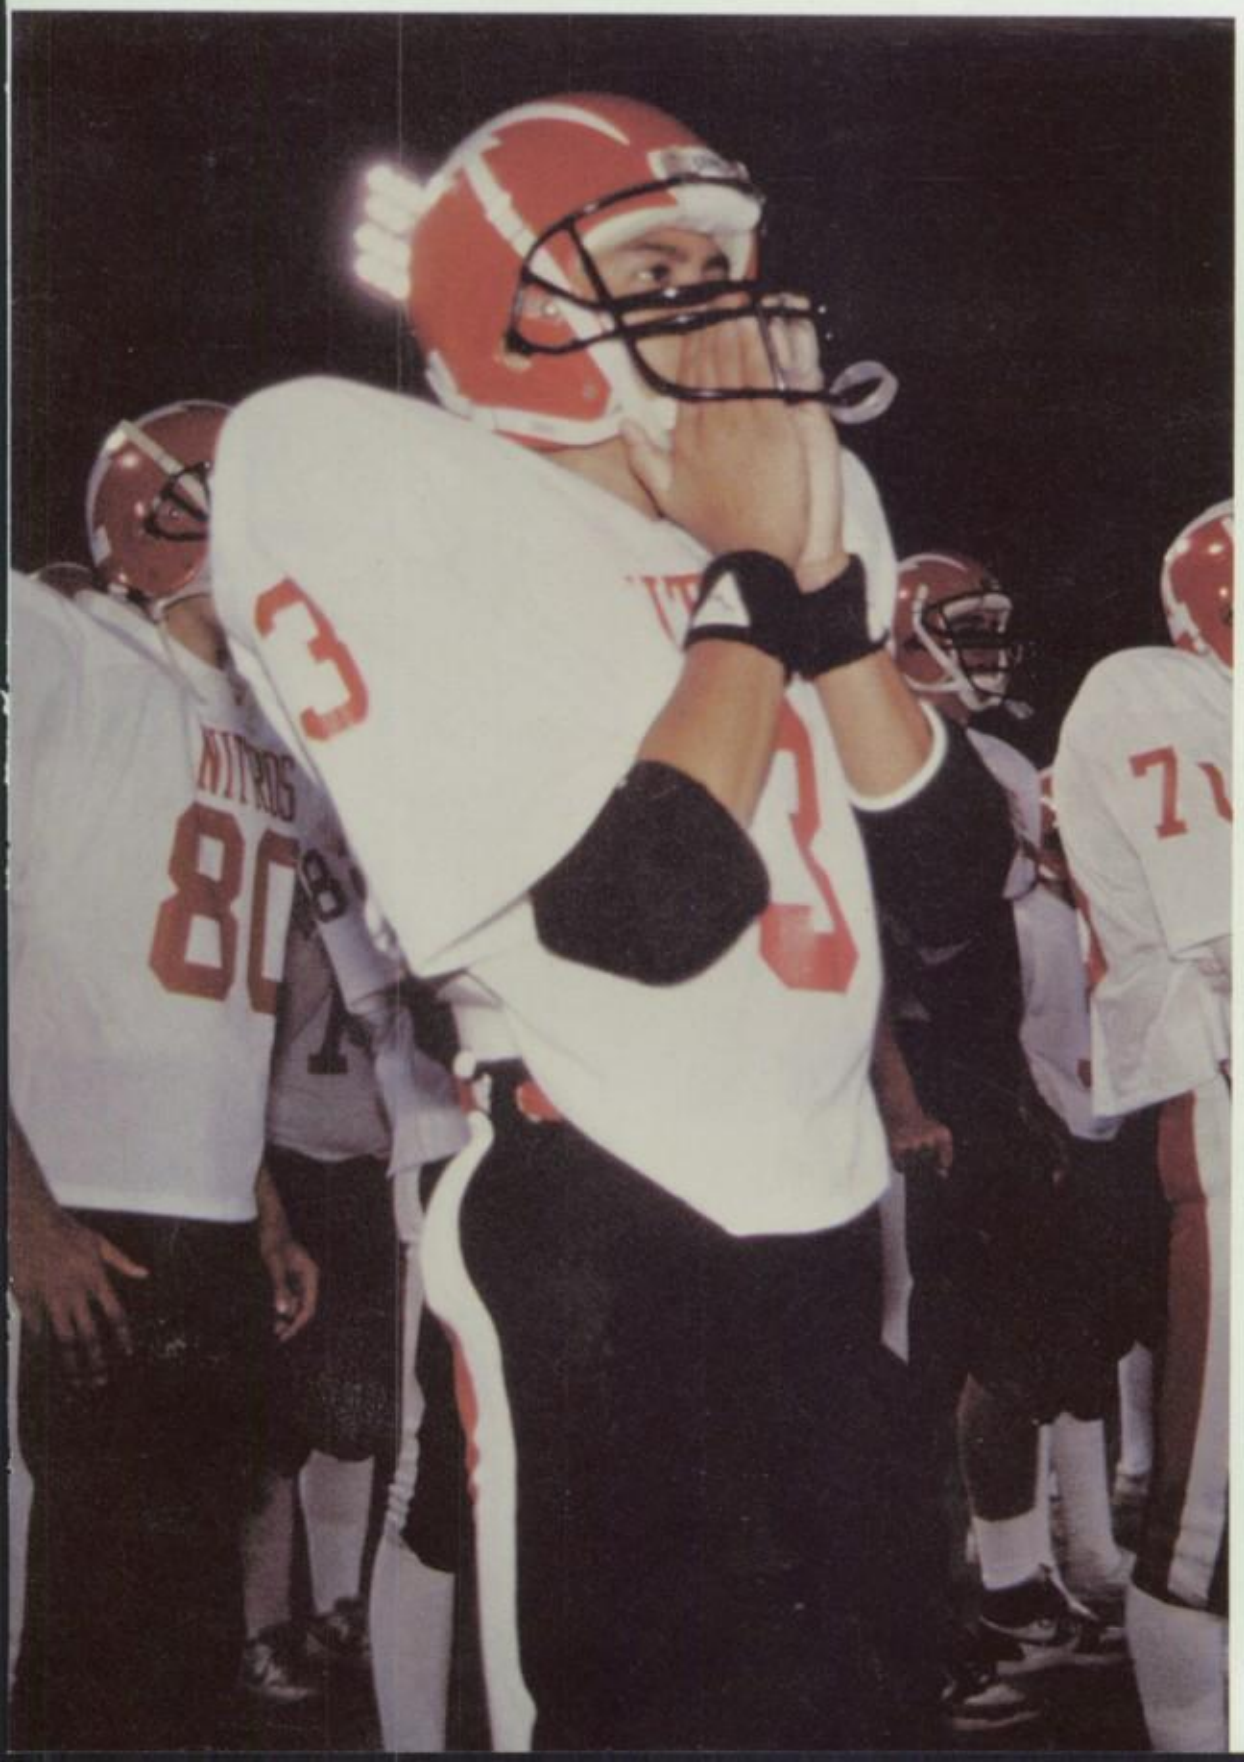
By Amy Chu

All through our lives we have been told that the only way that we are ever going to achieve anything, is to study every single moment of our lives. But we cannot just work and have no fun because we'll get burned out. We should at least try to fit some relaxing time in our schedule so that we aren't always under so much pressure. Why do you think we all like to leave campus for lunch? Well, it's so that we can get away from the school's tense enviroment for just a few minutes and go into the nice, warm, and relaxing surroundings of Mc Donald's or Burger King and just talk with our friends and have a laugh or two. Even during short periods of time, like during snack and between classes, we attempt to unload all our pressures from school and just to laugh a little and have a good time. For when one has been working so hard, it feels good to forget about work for a while and just enjoy a short time of relaxation.



Hey you! The football players find this relaxing?!

When I Grow Up . . .

By Amy Chu

Eversince we were young children sitting on our parents' laps, we have had an idea of what we were going to become when we grew up. Our choice of careers reflected our individuality and still do. Some of us wanted to be Superman while others of us wanted to be doctors. But no matter how different our career choices are, we still have one thing in common; our ambition. We could work hard to obtain our goals and not give up. Many of the Glendale High Alumnies have followed up to their dreams and have become exactly what they had hoped to be. Here are some examples of these successful people: On the far left we have Toto Nurd. He had worked very to become what he is today and he is presently working in a big corporation as a computer programmer. When Mr. Nurd was in high school, all he ever did was study. It was against his princibles to have any fun and it still s! But he had become exactly what he had wanted to be, so he is a success. Next we have Mommy Dearest. Ever since she was a little girl, she had wanted to be a mother and housewife. Though she did not have to work as hard in school as the others, she is still a good example of a successful person. Why? Well, the answer is easy. She may not be making a lot of money but she is doing what she wants; and that's the only thing that counts. This next Glendale High Alumnie, Wata Brain, was an extremely good student when he was in high school. Everything was easy for him, even CALCULUS! Gag! You know the type; he's the one that everybody copied their homework from and the one they gave a really hard time to. Now he is a successful scientist and is inventing something to be used to destroy those people who made his high school life miserable. Lastly we have Ms. Proper. She was the kind of person that always sat up straight in class and spoke too politely. Now that she is the teacher, she expects the same from all her students. She had to work hard to become a teacher and is now very happy. All of the people mentioned above are all successful because they have fulfilled their dreams. It does not matter how much money you make, the only thing that counts is that you are happy.
